ABSTRACT

By:
ELSI DIAH REFIANTI

The aim of this research is to show that peer review technique can be implemented to improve writing skill in recount text among the eighth grade of SMP Negeri 1 Kotagajah. The students of SMP Negeri 1 Kotagajah face difficulties in learning writing. They are not sure of how to arrange sentences into good paragraphs, how to develop their ideas, they have lack of vocabulary and tend to use only certain words they have known in writing. They also apply incorrect grammar in their writing.

This research is categorized to Classroom Action Research (CAR). It is carried out to solve the students' problem in writing recount text. The CAR design used in this research is Kemmis and Mc Taggart's design. It consists of four phases; planning, acting, observing, and reflecting. This research is conducted in 2 cycles and every cycle consists of 3 meetings. The subject of this research is the students of VIII B of SMP Negeri 1 Kotagajah. In collecting the data, this research used test, observation and documentation.

Based on the result and the discussion of this research, it can be said that the implementation of Peer Review Technique to improve writing skill in Recount Text is success because the criteria of success was achieved. The research will be called success if there is 80% or more of the students who passed the standard minimum criteria 70 and there is improvement in learning activity. The result shows that there is 87,5% of students who passed the standard minimum criteria in post test 2. Before the action was conducted, there is just 20,83% of the students who passed the standard minimum criteria. Besides, the significant improvement can be seen from the students' response to teacher's performance. They seen more active during teaching learning activity. Based on the result mentioned before, the researcher suggests that the English teacher should implement Peer Review Technique to improve the students' writing skill in Recount Text.

MENINGKATKAN KEMAMPUAN MENULIS DALAM TEKS RECOUNT
TERHADAP SISWA KELAS DELAPAN
SMP NEGERI 1 KOTAGAJAH

ABSTRAK

Oleh:
ELSI DIAH REFIANTI

Penelitian ini diadakan untuk untuk menunjukkan bahwa teknik peer review dapat diimplementasikan untuk meningkatkan keterampilan menulis teks recount pada kelas delapan di SMP Negeri 1 Kotagajah. Siswa SMP Negeri 1 Kotagajah menghadapi kesulitan dalam belajar menulis. Mereka tidak yakin bagaimana membuat kalimat ke dalam paragraf yang baik, bagaimana untuk mengembangkan ide-ide mereka, mereka memiliki minimnya kosakata dan cenderung hanya menggunakan kata-kata tertentu yang mereka tahu secara tertulis. Mereka juga menerapkan tata bahasa yang salah dalam tulisan mereka.

Penelitian ini masuk dalam kategori Classroom Action Research atau Penelitian Tindakan Kelas. Penelitian ini dilakukan untuk memecahkan masalah siswa dalam kemampuan menulis teks recount. Desain CAR yang digunakan dalam penelitian ini adalah desain oleh Kemmis dan Mc Taggart. Desain penelitian ini terdiri dari 4 fase yaitu, planning, acting, observing dan reflecting. Penelitian ini dilakukan dalam 2 siklus, 1 siklus terdiri dari 3 pertemuan. Subjek penelitian ini adalah siswa kelas VIII B SMP Negeri 1 Kotagajah. Metode yang digunakan dalam mengumpulkan data ialah tes, observasi dan dokumentasi.

Berdasarkan hasil dan pembahasan, penelitian ini menunjukkan bahwa penerapan teknik Peer Review dapat dikatakan berhasil dalam meningkatkan kemampuan menulisteks recount karena kriteria keberhasilan telah dicapai. Hal ini dapat dilihat dari hasil yang diperoleh siswa yang dapat melampaui kriteria keberhasilan yang telah ditentukan. Penelitian ini dapat dikatakan berhasil apabila 80% atau lebih siswa dapat mencapai KKM 70 dan siswa mengalami peningkatan dalam aktifitas belajar. Hasil penelitian menunjukkan bahwa terdapat 87,5% siswa yang melampaui KKM dalam post test 2. Sebelum penelitian dilakukan, hanya ada 20,83% siswa yang mampu melampaui KKM. Selain itu, perkembangan yang signifikan dapat dilihat dari respon siswa terhadap penjelasan guru. Mereka terlihat lebih aktif selama proses pembelajaran. Berdasarkan hasil penelitian tersebut, peneliti menyatakan bahwa guru bahasa Inggris seyogyanya dapat menerapkan teknik Peer Review untuk meningkatkan kemampuan menulis teks recount siswa.

CHAPTER I

INTRODUCTION

A. Background of Research

English as an international language has a very important role as the language of science, technology and international communication. It is crucial to be mastered lately since any other languages in the world. So it is important that English to be learnt by students. There are four skills that must be mastered by the students in English they are listening, speaking, reading, and writing. Among the four language skills, writing is the most challenging skill to learn. It needs competencies of many language aspects, including grammar, diction, cohesiveness, and vocabulary to express the researcher opinions, thoughts, knowledges, and feelings. Through writing, people can express their idea, knowledge, and feeling to others. In fact, many students face many difficulties when they begin writing especially in writing recount text.

Based on the school-based curriculum in junior high school, in English subject the students have to understand and create some short functional texts such as procedure, descriptive, recount, narrative, and report. In fact, many students at Junior High School especially in SMP Negeri 1 Kotagajah assume that English is a difficult subject. There are some factors that influence students problems such as: (1) The students spend much time to think about what they will write and the words that they should use. (2) The students lack of vocabulary. (3) There are many errors in their writing in grammar and diction. (4) The students are bored and uninterested with the conventional strategy of teaching recount text which has been applied.

The students have some difficulties in organizing the paragraph and grammatical use. There are many mistakes in their writing in grammar, diction and also lack of vocabulary. The problem is they are not aware or do not know the mistakes that they have made. The student's problem in writing is also caused by the difficulty of expressing ideas in writing. It is caused by their insufficient knowledge of language components such as vocabulary and grammar. Besides the difficulties in writing itself, writing problems also exist because of the student's reluctance in writing. The lack of writing practice makes students perform poorly in writing. Furthermore, they are bored and uninterested with the conventional strategy of teaching recount text which has been applied.

This statement can be proofed by the result of reasearcher pre-survey that is conducted on November, 17th, 2017 at SMP Negeri 1 Kotagajah, by using the test to know their ability in writing recount text. The reseacher got the result of the test and it can be seen on the following table :

Table 1
The Result of Students' Writing Recount Text Pre-Surveyscore
among the Eighth Graders of SMP Negeri 1 Kotagajah

No	Graders	Categories	Frequency	Percentages
1	≥70	Pass	4	20%
2	<70	Failed	20	80%
Total			24	100%

Data Resources : The Students' Score of SMP Negeri 1 Kotagajah

From the table above, it can be seen that students' writing score are categorized into low level of the total students. From 25 students, only 5 students or 20% who complete the Standard Minimum Requirement (SMR) which the standard minimum requirement is 70 for English and 20 students or 75% belong to the failed.

Considering the fact above, the teacher should give the strategies to solve the problem between the curriculum expectation and students' low writing skill especially in writing a recount text. These strategies should be interesting in order to the students can enjoy experimenting with writing and putting their ideas down on paper.

Recount is kinds of text that retell the past event which the purpose is informing or entertaining the reader. Seeing those student's difficulties in writing recount text and when their teacher corrects their writing, they often just throw it away or do not see or check it again. So, peer review technique is adequate technique to help students correct their work when there is something wrong in their writing; this gives the student the opportunity to reflect on their mistakes and make improvements to their writing. It also shows the teacher what the learners are able to do and what still remains difficult or unknown.

Peer review technique is an essential part of the writing process. It is utilized between the drafting and revision stages, considering the process of writing involves four elements: planning, drafting, editing, and final version. By peer review technique, students can get the four elements in the writing process. By applying peer review technique, it will help students to know what the strengths are and weaknesses or what are missing from their writing so they can revise and improve it.

Through this technique, students could exchange their writing with their partners to check the organization in writing. In peer review students read each other papers and provide feedback to the researcher, usually answering specific questions that teacher has provided. So, through this technique, students got good feedback to evaluate their writing better and it is very useful for students.

Based on the description above, the researcher would like to conduct a research entitled, “Improving the Writing Skill in Recount Text by Using Peer Review Technique among the Eighth Graders of SMP Negeri 1 Kotagajah”

B. Problem Identification

Regarding to the Background above, the researcher would like to identify the problems as follows:

1. The students spend much time to think about what they will write and the words that they should use, so they cannot get ideas quickly.
2. The students lack of vocabulary.
3. They use incorrect grammar in their writing.
4. Many students have low motivation in learning English because they assume that English is difficult, especially in writing recount text.

C. Problem Limitation

Based on the problem identification above, the researcher limits the problem only on improving the writing skill in recount text by using peer review technique among the eighth graders of SMP Negeri 1 Kotagajah. The student's problem in writing is also caused by the difficulty of expressing ideas in writing and the learning technique which are used by the teacher in the learning process are not appropriate.

D. Problem Formulation

Concerned with the background of research and problem identifications above, the researcher formulates the problem as follow : “can peer review technique improve the writing skill in recount text among the eighth graders of SMP Negeri 1 Kotagajah ?”

E. Objective and Benefit of the Research

1. Objective of the Research

The primary goal of the research is to showt whether peer review technique can improve the writing skill in recount text among eighth graders of SMP Negeri 1 Kotagajah.

2. Benefit of the Research

The result of the research is projected to give essential contributions to English teaching. Specifically, the benefits are intended to go:

- a. For the Teacher : The teacher can improve his ability to make innovation and effective techniques of teaching writing. It is also enriches teacher's technique to teach writing so that his/her problems that faced in the classroom can be solve.

- b. For the Institution : The result of this research can be used as the information material and gives a real contribution of knowledge in learning English especially in writing recount text.
- c. For the Further Research : The result of this research can be comparison for other reseacher to further research in future.

CHAPTER II

THEORETICAL REVIEW

A. Theoretical Review

1. Concept of Writing Skill

a. Definition of Writing Skill

Writing is all around us. We see written texts every day, even if we don't always read them. We write something every day, from a quick shopping list to an academic essay.¹

Academic Writing is a flexible course that allows students to work either with a teacher or by themselves, to practice those areas which are most important for their studies. Many students find that they have very limited time to prepare for their courses, and that writing is only one of several skills they need to master. The structure of the book has been made as simple as possible to allow users to find what they want quickly.²

Dorothy E Zemach and Carlos Islam pointed out that writing is one of important form of communication in day-to-day-life, but it is especially important in high school and college. Writing is also one of the most difficult skills to master in both a first language and a second language. Students can find it challenging to find ideas to include in their writing and each culture has its own style for organizing academic writer.³

Trudy Wallance states that Writing is the final product of several separate acts that are hugely challenging to learn simultaneously. Among these separable acts are note-taking, identifying a central idea, outlining, drafting and editing. Both young and old people can encounter the discouraging “writer’s block” if they engage in more than one or two of these activities at once.⁴

Based on the explanation above, it can be sum up that writing is a way to produce language that comes from our thought. In the writing process, the writer tries to developing their ideas and feelings to produce into a good sentence, in order to inform the other.

b. Process of Writing Skill

The writing process comprises the mechanics by which writers create publishable products. It is the method all writers use to generate ideas, choose and organize these ideas, write and revise their pieces, and format them for publication. In terms of instruction, it represents a holistic approach, encouraging creation of an entire product, rather than working on pieces of this process and only infrequently putting it.⁵

⁴ Trudy Wallace, Winifred E. Stariba and Herbert J. Walberg, Teaching Speaking Listening and Writing, (The International Academy of Education (IAE), 1986), Vol. XIV, No.15, p. 15

⁵ Garth Sundem, M. M, Practical Strategies for Succesfull Classroom: Improving Student’s Writing Skills, (USA: Shell Education, 2006), p. 41

In teaching the writing process, be aware that students will find their own methods. However, you want to make sure that every student has a basis in and complete understanding of the basic steps, which they will need to use in some form. At least the beginning of the year, encourage students to use the following strategies: Prewriting, Drafting, Self Revising, Peer/Adult Revising, Editing, Publishing.⁶

According to Raimes in Ken Hyland, the teacher's role is to guide students through the writing process avoiding an emphasis on form to help them develop strategies for generating, drafting, and refining ideas. This is achieved through setting pre-writing activities to generate ideas about content and structure, encouraging brainstorming and outlining, requiring multiple drafts, giving extensive feedback, seeking text level revisions, facilitating peer responses, and delaying surface corrections until the final editing.⁷

Harmer notion that there are four stages of writing process, the following are the explanation of each stage:⁸

1) Planning

It is the first stage before students start their writing. This stage helps students to generate ideas in their writing. Before starting to write or type, they try and decide what it is they are going to say.

⁶ Garth Sundem, M. M, Practical Strategies for Successful Classroom: Improving Student's Writing Skills, p. 42

⁷ Ken Hyland, Second Language Writing, (USA: Cambridge University Press, 2003), p. 12

⁸ Jeremy Harmer, How to Teach Writing, (England: Longman, 2004), p. 104

The purpose of this stage is to explore their ideas and only need a little time to think what the ideas (brainstorming).

2) Drafting

We can refer to the first version of a piece of writing as a draft. During the drafting stage, students should concentrate on getting their ideas on paper, organizing their information logically, and developing their topic with enough details. As the writing process proceeds into editing, a number of drafts may be produced on the way to the final version.

3) Editing (reflecting and revising)

Once writers have produced a draft they then, usually, read through what they have written to see where it works and where it doesn't. Perhaps the order of the information is not clear. Perhaps the way something is written is ambiguous or confusing. They may then move paragraphs around or write a new introduction. Reflecting and revising are often helped by other readers who comment and make suggestions. Another reader's reaction to a piece of writing will help the author to make appropriate revisions

4) Final Version

It is the last stage in writing process. Once writers have edited their draft, making the changes they consider to be necessary, they produce their final version. This may look considerably different from both the original plan and the first draft, because things have changed in the editing process. From those stages above, it can be concluded that writing begins with designing a plan, gathering the ideas that will be constructed into the first draft. Then, the draft should be re-read and edited with the appropriate changes to make a good final version.

Based on the quotations above, the researcher concludes that there are four steps in writing, the first is planning or pre-writing, the second is drafting, the third is editing (reviewing) and revising and the last is final version or re-writing.

c. Kinds of Writing Skill

The kinds of writing are elaborated as follows:

1. Descriptive

Malraux highlighted that generally descriptive is sensory experience or visual experience, it is about how something looks, sounds, and tastes.⁹

In organizing the descriptive writing is highly required to begin the paragraph with a topic sentence which briefly explain the significance of the described object, describe the object in four or five sentence, and conclude the paragraph with the emphasizing the characteristic of the item.

⁹ Thomas S. Kane, The Oxford Essential Guide to Writing, (New York; Oxford University Press Inc, 2000), p.351

2. Narrative

The narrative writing refers to the story which happens in the past. In the other words, when the author write down the narrative writing it means that author tells about the story. The topics in narrative writing can be about biographies, autobiographies, historical event, instructions, and processes. Therefore, a good narrative writing contains three basic characteristics such as it is clearly organized in time, makes a central point, and also includes the specific relevant details to the main point.

3. Expository

This kind of writing is elaborated into the explanation and analysis of information to the reader. The useful parts of expository are knowledge of description and narration. These parts generate the briefness explanation within a paragraph to make the effective expository writing. The expository includes editorials, essays, informative and instructional material

4. Argumentative

Bill states that argumentative writing is formed by the specific argument or statement namely debatable statement. Deabtable statement deals with the argument in which the reader may disagree with it. Consequently, the writer needs to support statement in order to persuade the readers.¹⁰

¹⁰ Daly, Bill, Writing Argumentative Essay, (London: Routledge, 1997), p. 1

Furthermore, Pirie maintains that some step in planning the argument can be described as narrowing the scope, weighing proportion and paragraphing.¹¹

5. Recount

According Artono Wardiman and Masduki B. Jahur A recount text is a text that telling the reader about one story, action or activity. Its goal is to entertaining or informing the reader.¹²

Based on the quotations, the kinds of writing is divided into some kinds namely Descriptive, Narrative, Expository, Argumentative, Recount. Every kinds have the characteristic itself and also different one anothers. In this research, the researcher chooses recount text as the material used. Recount text is a text that tells story or experience the writers in the past.

2. Concept of Recount Text

a. Definition of Recount Text

Recount is the most common type of non-fiction writing and includes regular news or diary writing; accounts of outings and holiday activities; true stories of events in history or R.E.; and accurate reporting of classroom activities in science or other curriculum areas.¹⁴

Dykes Barbara states that recounts begin with by telling reader who is involved, what happened where this event took place and when it happened. The squence of event is then described in some sort of order, for instance a time order.¹⁵

Based on those explanation it can noted that recount is a text which retells events or experiences in the past. Recount tells the reader what happened and this may involve the author's personal interpretation of events.

b. Generic Structure of Recount Text

According to Artono Wardiman and Masduki B. Jahur, there are three generic structures of recount text. They are:¹⁶

- 1) Orientation tells who was involved, what happened, where the events took place, and when it happened. Example : Last night, I read an article about adolescence in a magazine.
- 2) Events (event 1 and 2) tell what happened and in what sequence. Example : After I finished reading the article, I remembered my own adolescence; To divert my emotions, I took many extra curricular activities.

¹⁴ Sue Palmer, How to Teach Writing Across the Curriculum: Ages 6–8, (USA: Taylor & Francis Group, 2011), 2nd Edition, p.42

¹⁵ Barbara Dykes, Grammar for Everyone, (Australia: Acer Press, 2007), p. 44

¹⁶ Artono Wardiman and Masduki B. Jahur English in Focus: for grade VIII of Junior High School, p. 61

3) Reorientation consists of optional-closure of events/ ending.

Example : I was able to control my emotions and to have a place where I could express my creativity in positive ways.

Based on the statement above, it can be sump up that recount text usually begin with orientation which incorporate elements of background information to help the reader understand the story. The audience needs to know when the events occured, who is involved, what happened, where the activity or event took place and sometimes what the reason is for the event. Next is events, it contain important events that described and usually arranged in chronological time from the first event to the last event. The third is orientation, it contain evaluative comments or statements conclusion that may just be a comment on the events that happened before. However, this is optional which is a comment that reflect the feeling of the writer of the events mentioned before.

c. Language Features of Recount Text

Sue Palmer explains that there are six language features which is used in recount text. The language features are as follows:¹⁷

- 1) Using nouns and pronouns (e.g. : David, we, his)
- 2) Using action verbs (e.g. : went, played, spent)
- 3) Using past tense (e.g. : We went for a trip to the zoo.)
- 4) Using time conjunctions (e.g. : and, but, after, finally)

¹⁷ Sue palmer, How to Teach Writing Across the Curriculum., p. 42

- 5) Using adverb and adverb of phrases (e.g. : in my house, slowly)
- 6) Using adjectives (e.g. : beautiful, sunny)

Based on the statement above, the researcher conclude that recount text has a grammar in writing such as the use of past tense because related to the purpose of telling the past event. Use adverb of squence time like: first, then, next, finally, etc. Use personal pronoun like: he, we, they, etc.

d. Materials of Writing among the Eighth Graders of SMP Negeri 1 Kotagajah

The materials of recount text among the eighth graders of SMP Negeri 1 Kotagajah are as follows:¹⁸

1) Recount Text

a) The Definition of Recount Text

The text is a recount text in written form. A recount text tells the readers about past events. It usually uses simple past tense.

b) The Elements of Recount Text:

(1) Orientation : Tells the readers about what happened, where the story happened and who was involved in the story.

(2) Events : Tells the reader about a series of events.

(3) Re-Orientation: Tells the readers about the closure of events.

¹⁸ Bachtiar Bima, Bahasa Inggris: Kelas VIII Semester 1, (Klaten: PT Intan Pariwara, 2016), p. 28-45

c) The Language Features of Recount Text

- (1) Using nouns and pronouns (e.g. : David, we, his)
- (2) Using action verbs (e.g. : went, played, spent)
- (3) Using past tense (e.g. : We went for a trip to the zoo.)
- (4) Using time conjunctions (e.g. : and, but, after, finally)
- (5) Using adverb and adverb of phrases (e.g. : in my house, slowly)
- (6) Using adjectives (e.g. : beautiful, sunny)

2) Simple Past Tense

Simple pas tense is used to talk about past events. Here are the patterns and examples:

Subject + verb past + object/complement

Example: Sita called me yesterday.

Subject + was/were + object/complement

Example: Olivia was sick yesterday.

Subject + did not + verb base + object/complement

Example: Mr. Jay did not work overtime the day before.

Subject + was/were not + complement

Example: The students were not in their classroom this morning.

(?) Did + subject + verb base + object/complement + ?

Example: Did you just borrow the book?

Was/were + subject + complement

Example: were you absent yesterday?

There are two kinds of verb past, i.e. regular and irregular verbs.

Table 3
Regular and Irregular Verb Past

Regular Verbs
Verb Base	Verb Past	Example
Discuss	Discussed	We discussed about our assignment yesterday afternoon.
Pick	Picked	Zaky picked his cousin up from the railway station.
Drop	Dropped	Erlin dropped her purse on her way to school.
Irregular Verbs
Verb Base	Verb Past	Example
Think	Thought	We thought hard to solve the problem.
Break	Broke	Sorry, I broke your laptop.
Write	Wrote	Andra wrote a short message to his brother.

3) Past Continuous Tense

Past continuous tense (also called past progressive tense) is commonly used in English for actions which were going on (had not finished) at a particular time in the past.

(a) To express one action which began before another and finished after it.

Example: Henry started doing his homework at 7 p.m. and finished it at 9 p.m. his brother came home at 8 p.m.

So, Henry was doing homework when his brother came home.

7 p.m.	8 p.m. Henry's brother came home	9 p.m.
Doing homework	Doing homework	Doing homework

- (b) To talk about an action that had already started and was still continuing at a particular time.

Example: It started raining at 3 o'clock and stopped raining at 5 o'clock. So, it was raining at 4 o'clock.

Here is the diagram:

3 p.m.	4 p.m. (specific time)	5 p.m.
Raining	Raining	raining

- (c) To describe two actions that were both continuing at the same time in the past. In this case, we use the past continuous for both actions.

Example: I started watching TV at 2 p.m. my mother started sleeping at the same time. So, while I was watching TV, my mother was sleeping.

Here is the diagram:

2 p.m.	3 p.m.	4 p.m.
(me) watching TV	watching TV	watching TV

Based on the school based curriculum among the eighth graders of SMP Negeri 1 Kotagajah, in English subject the students have to know and to use the materials of writing recount text that included the definition of recount text, elements of recount text; orientation; events;

re-orientation, the language features of recount text; using nouns and pronouns; using action verbs; using time conjunctions; using adverb and adverb of phrases, simple past tense and past continuous tense.

3. Concept of Peer Review Technique

a. Definition of Peer Review Technique

Peer review is one of techniques in teaching writing. It is very important in writing process. Peer review technique is also referred to as peer editing, peer response, peer evaluation, and peer feedback, in which students read each other's writing and provide feedback to the researcher. Peer review is an activity in process of students "writing to responding to each other's writing".¹⁹

According to Charles Darwin in Jennifer Peat, Peer review technique is the cornerstone of good science but, that said it is a peculiar process. The peer-review process is inherently fraught with difficulty because you are essentially asking for criticism, although you would, no doubt, prefer praise. To receive praise is a truly wonderful, feel-good experience, but only the criticism can help to improve your paper. Although you need peer review, criticism is hard to take no matter how it is packaged, so take a deep breath, put your feelings aside, and remember that, if your coauthors misinterpret what you have written or find your paper difficult to read, then others will too.²⁰

Liu and Hansen states that peer review is an interaction which involves students to exchange information.²¹ In addition, the students have a roles and responsibilities in commenting on and critiquing each others writing in both written and oral formats in the process of writing.

From those theories above, it can be concluded that peer review is one of the good techniques in teaching writing. It involves students as the main part of teaching learning process. They have to be more creative and more critical by giving a constructive feedback to other peers and allow them to evaluate their organization, context, grammar, punctuation and spelling, and style.

b. Principles of Peer Review Technique

According to Edith Cowan there are five principles of peer review technique. They are:²²

- 1) Participation in peer review should be voluntary.
- 2) The peer review process should be flexible in its application. The reviewee and reviewer(s) should negotiate what to review, the criteria to be used, how the feedback is to be given, and what subsequent action is to be taken.

²⁰ Jennifer Peat, Scientific Writing: Easy When You Know How, (London: BMJ Publishing Group, 2002), p. 106

²¹ Jette G. Hansen and Jun Liu, Guiding Principles for Effective Peer Response, (ELT Journal: Oxford University Press), No. 59/January 2005, p. 31

²² Edith Cowan, Peer review of Teaching, (Australia: ECU University, 2001), p. 2

- 3) The peer review process should be developmental, supportive and constructive. The role of the reviewer is that of critical friend. Feedback from the process should identify areas for further professional development.
- 4) The peer review process should be beneficial to the reviewee and the reviewer(s). The reviewee will benefit from targeted feedback on selected aspects of their learning and teaching. The reviewer will benefit from the opportunity to reflect on his/her own practice as s/he considers the practice of the reviewee.
- 5) The peer review process should endorse the status of learning and teaching as the subject of rational inquiry. Where the reviewer has a degree of expertise in education, the process of peer review can become an act of rational enquiry into teaching and can be considered as research.

Those are the principles which are usually used. Those principles must be known by the students and teacher who are learning by peer review technique. The students and the teacher have to know what is the benefit from targeted feedback on selected aspects of their learning and teaching.

c. Advantages of Peer Review Technique

According to Harrmer, peer review is a valuable element in the writing process. It has the advantage of encouraging students to work collaboratively, something which, in a group, we want to foster. It is also good for the problem of students reacting too passively to teacher responses. Peer review, therefore, is less authoritarian than teacher review, and helps students to view both colleagues and teachers as collaborators rather than evaluators. Students will need guidance from their teacher so that they know what to look at when they read their classmate's work.²³

In conclusion, it can be said that peer review gives benefits to the students both the researchers and the reviewers. They learn how to give and get constructive comments and suggestions. Students more confidence when they submit their writing to their teacher because it had been improved by revising their first draft after exchanging one to each other with their classmates and get constructive feedback.

d. Disadvantages of Peer Review Technique

Peer review is not problem-free, however. In the first place, some students who rely on the teacher's approval may resent it, valuing their colleague's opinions much less than their teacher's. Secondly, not all students work well together; the success of peer review may depend on exactly who is the reviewer and whose work is being reviewed. Finally, if students are not questionable. Nevertheless, despite these dangers, getting students to help each other in the editing process can be extremely useful when handled in a sensitive and encouraging way.²⁴

²³Jeremy Hermer, How to Teach Writing, p. 115

e. Steps of Peer Review Technique

In the context of the research, the steps of conducting peer review are arranged as follows:

1) The teacher gives the procedures of peer review technique to the students.

In this step, teacher explains how to do peer review and ensure that the students understand it. This activity involves explaining, demonstrating and especially modelling on how to peer review.

2) The teacher instructs the students to write the first draft of recount text based on the given topic..

3) The teacher want the students to conduct peer review in pairs, exchanging their first draft one with another. Each student read and reviews their classmate's draft. The teacher's moving around to check whether or not the peer review technique is good applied.

4) After the students read and reviews their classmate's draft, they should deliver the feedback on a peer review sheet. In this step, the students make comments and suggestions after reading their classmate's draft. The students focus on aspects of organization, content, grammar, punctuation and spelling, and style of quality expression.

²⁴Jeremy Hermer, How to Teach Writing, p. 116

- 5) The last part of this step is the students return the first draft and guideline sheets to the owner.

B. Action Hypothesis

A hypothesis may be defined as a proposition or a set of proposition set forth as an explanation for the occurrence of some specified group of phenomena either asserted merely as a provisional conjecture to guide some investigation or accepted as highly probable in the light of established fact.

Hypothesis: from the title above the researcher has assumption that Peer Review Technique can improve the writing skill in recount text among the eighth graders of SMP Negeri 1 Kotagajah.

CHAPTER III

RESEARCH METHODOLOGY

A. Research Object

Object of the research is the student's writing skill. In this research, the researcher chose writing recount text because it include in the syllabus. The students write about their experience. After using Peer Review Technique in learning process, it would be hoped that it could be improving student's learning results and studies activity in the classroom.

B. Research Setting

This research was conducted in SMP Negeri 1 Kotagajah. Which is located at Mansur Street, Sritejokencono, Kotagajah, Central Lampung, Lampung. This research is about Improving The Writing Skill in Recount Text by Using Peer Review Technique among the Eighth Graders of SMP Negeri 1 Kotagajah

C. Research Subject

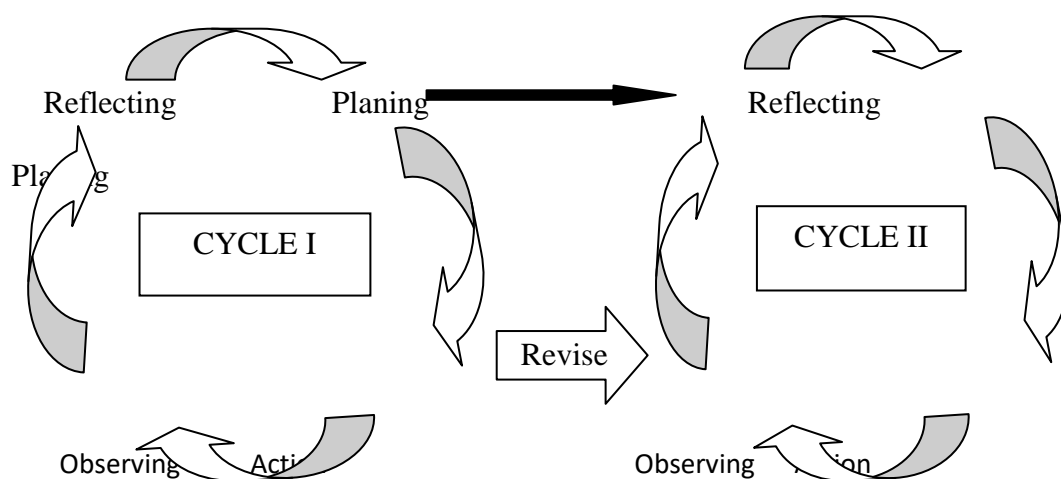

The subject of this research is VIII B students' of SMP Negeri 1 Kotagajah. The researcher chooses VIII B class as a sample research from classes which consists of 24 students.

D. Research Procedure

This research uses a classroom action research. There are four components in one cycle for doing classroom action research. It consists of planning, acting, observing, and reflecting.

Mc Niff states that action research is a name given to particular way of researching your own language.²⁵ It means that action research is a practical way of looking at your practice in order to check whether it is as you feel it should be. Moreover, Donald Ary said that action research is a process to improve education by incorporating change and involves educators working together to improve their own practice.²⁶ It means that action research is process in education where is the teacher not the usual thing that teacher do when thinking about teaching.

The reseacher will use model developed by Kemmmis and Mc Taggart in Burns. Action research occurs through a dynamic and complementary process, which consists of four essential “moments” of planning, action, observing, and reflecting.²⁷

²⁵ McNiff Jean Whitehead, Action Research : Principles and Practice, Second Edition, (London: Sage Publication, 2002), p. 15

²⁷ Anne Burns, Doing Action Research in English Language Teaching: A Guide for Practitioners, (New York : Routledge, 2010) , p. 9

The 'Action Research Spiral' (Based on Kemmis and Mc Taggart)

The model consists of planning, acting, observing, and reflecting. This classroom action research is arranged into two cycles. They are cycle one and cycle two. The researcher will collaborate with the writing lecturer who teaches in class 8 B. The activities that will be done in each cycle is as follows:

1. Pre-cycle

At the first meeting of the research, the researcher gave a pre test to the students. Pre cycle test was conducted before the researcher gave them the treatment which is teaching writing recount text using peer review technique. The test was aimed to measure the student's basic skill of writing recount text before giving them the treatment. This test asked students to create a recount text about their unforgettable experience. Then, the researcher scored and analyzed the result of pre cycle test to determine the student's difficulties in writing recount text.

2. Cycle 1

First Cycle test was done in second meeting. In this meeting, the researcher applied Peer Review technique in teaching writing recount text. The researcher gave some treatment to the students related to the materials. There were four steps in conducting cycle 1.

a. Planning

In this activity, a researcher needed to prepare what the researcher needs before doing this action research. This plan was used to get the optimum result. The researcher planned some activities:

- 1) Preparing teaching and learning material about recount text and peer review technique, designing a lesson plan suitable with the action at the classroom;
- 2) Preparing the instrument both test and non-test to measure the student's mastery of the material.

b. Acting

After planning, the researcher did the action in the classroom.

- 1) In this activity, the researcher explained materials of recount text, the generic structure and the language features of recount text.
- 2) The researcher also explained the peer review and its procedure in order to make the students able to practice this technique in writing.
- 3) Then, they started to write of recount and applied peer review technique.

c. Observing

In this phase, students were observed.

- 1) The observation mainly focused on the student's activities in teaching learning process while the teaching and learning process in the classroom, the researcher observed all happened in the classroom.

- 2) The researcher used observation sheet which prepared in planning stage. Observation sheet is used to know the student's behaviour during the teaching learning process when the treatment was given.
- 3) The results of observation in first cycle helped the researcher to determine the action in second cycle.

d. Reflecting

Reflecting is the analysis of the observation result and evaluation during the first cycle.

- 1) The researcher tried to analyze the difficulties that students faced, also the improvement of student's writing after being treated by using peer review.
- 2) The problems in the first cycle that have not been solved will be discussed on the next cycle.

3. Cycle 2

The researcher did the second cycle after first cycle was done. The activities in second cycle were similar with the activities in first cycle before but with some revision after doing reflection in first cycle.

Those activities were:

a. Planning

The planning in second cycle was based on the result of the first cycle. The planning was made to make improvement of the teaching writing recount text by using peer review technique and it was hoped to solve the problems or weaknesses in first cycle. The researcher designed the lesson plans, materials for teaching recount text, and a post test.

b. Acting

The action in second cycle was conducted by giving feedback on the first cycle's result. Learning process in second cycle offered the solutions of the problems faced by the students when they used peer review in writing recount texts. In this phase, the researcher also conducted the post test. The students were asked to write a recount text based on the given topic.

c. Observing

In this phase, the researcher collected and analyzed the student's data gathered during the stage of acting. The purpose of this step was to know whether the result of actions that the researcher conducted give contribution to the students. Observation was done while conducted the treatment. The researcher used same observation sheet which the researcher used in first cycle to observe the student's behavior in second cycle. The researcher observed whether they did some improvement or not.

d. Reflecting

It was an activity which was purposed to find out significant progress of first cycle and second cycle. Furthermore, after getting data from second cycle test or post test then the researcher analyzed it to to know whether or not there was a significant improvement of the student's recount text.

E. Data Collection Technique

The classroom action research needs the data to support the investigation. There are several ways to collect data like questionnaire, observation, field notes, interview, documentation, test, and et cetera. In this research, the researcher gathered the data to support above. The researcher chooses some of which are appropriate to the school environment, and can be done there. The techniques and methods which are used by the researcher to collect the data are test, observation and documentation.

1. Test

The researcher gives the students test to evaluate their writing skill in recount text. Test is the sequence of questions or statement that is used to measure skill, knowledge, intelligence, ability that have by individual or group. According to Douglas Brown test is a method of measuring a person's ability or knowledge in a given domain.²⁸ The researcher used test in form pre-test and post-test.

a. Pre Test

The researcher gives test in the first meeting before the research in order to know ability of the students before doing the action research.

The pre-test used in this research is in the form of writing skill test.

²⁸ H. Douglas Brown Brown, Teaching by Principles, (New York: Pearson Education, 2002), 2nd Edition, p. 384

b. Post Test

The post tests was done in the end of every cycle. Test has something as a purpose to find out the improvement of students' achievement. Post test is the result of treatments. The improvement could be identified if the average scores of the post test are higher than pre test.

This step was done after the treatment to know the use of peer review technique whether it is able to improve the students' writing skill in recount text.

2. Observation

In this research, the researcher observed the students' behaviors and the students' activities in the learning process to know how the process of learning will be held. In doing the observation, the research made the observation sheet that contains of list of the students' activities. In this research, observation used to know the teacher's performance and the student's participation in learning process.

3. Documentation

The researcher used documents which are taken from the data of the school such as total of the students, the teachers and the condition of the school.

4. The Field Note

To collect the data more accurately, the researcher used the field note, it will make the data analyzer simpler. In many professions, it is a manner of good practice to make “field note” while actually engaged in profesional.²⁹

F. Research Instrument

1. Instrument Blueprint

In this research, the researcher is employed instrument blueprint. The researcher used test, observation, and documentation as the instruments.

a. Test

Test is important part of every teaching and learning experience. Test (assessment), an assessment intended to measure the respondents' knowledge or other abilities.

The Indicator Instrument of Writing Recount Text

No	Indicator	Evaluation
		Technique	Type of Instrument	Example
1	Make a recount text based on the topic.	Writing test	Creation	Make a recount text based on the topic!

a. Observation

Observation is either an activity of a living being, such as a human, consisting of receiving knowledge of the outside world through the senses, or the recording of data using scientific instruments. The term may also refer to any data collected during this activity. When conducting observation, the researcher used the observation scheme to make it more systematic containing list of activity or happening which might happen.

²⁹ Michael J. Wallace, Action research for Language Teacher. (Cambridge: University Press, 1997), p. 57

The observation form in this research is used to know:

- 1) The activities during the teaching and learning process.
- 2) The teacher carried out the material.
- 3) What the teacher do to manage the classroom and the students' response.

b. Documentation

Documentation is a term with many meanings, the most common of which are:

- 1) A set of documents provided on paper, or online, or on digital.
- 2) Groups of verbal data in written formic the definition of document in a simple meaning. Meanwhile in extensive meaning concludes monuments, artifacts, photos, tapes, etc
- 3) Collect data dealing with geographical location, profile, documentation of teaching and learning process in English subject.

G. Data Analysis Technique

Data analysis will be conduct by taking the average of the pre test, and post test. To know students achievements after the actions are conducted and given test at the early and the last cycles.

$$X = \frac{\sum x}{n}$$

- : Mean
- : The sum of
- : raw score
- : The total number of subject³⁰

$$P = \frac{\sum x}{n} \times 100 \%$$

- : Mean Percentage

H. Indicators of Success

The indicator of the successful takes from the process and the result of the action research. The research is called successful if 80% of students get standard minimum requirement score (SMR) of 70 and 80% of students active in learning activity.

2. Description of the Data

In this research, the researcher and the Collaborator Mrs. Supriyati, S.Pd conducted the research in two cycles and each consist of planning, acting, observing and reflecting.

a. Cycle 1

1. Planning

In this section the researcher planned to give the material about recount text. The researcher prepared several things related to learning process such as prepared the lesson plan for the action based on the problems faced by students. The researcher selected material and exercise into a lesson plan. In the lesson plan, there was peer review technique to improve student's writing skill in recount text. Beside of making lesson plan the researcher also made the instrument that would be done as the pre- test and post- test in the cycle 1, made the observation sheet of the student's activity, identified the problem and found the cause of problem at the first and the end of learning process, so planned to giving the evaluation to measure the students skill in received the material that have been taught.

2. Action

The implementation of the action was conducted in 3 meetings. The first meeting was used to pre-test, second meeting was used to the action and the third meeting was used to post test. And here are the explanation of every meeting:

1) The First Meeting.

This meeting was conducted on October 14th 2017 for 2x40 minutes. This meeting used as the pre-test before the students were given action. The meeting was started by praying, greeting and checking the attendance list, so asking the students condition.

In this stage, the condition of the class was effected because the collaborator handed the class before the researcher was doing research in the class. It showed that most of students gave their full nice attention to the researcher. The researcher gave pre-test to the students. The test was writing test. This test asked students to create a recount text with the theme “Unforgettable Moment”. The result of pre-test can be seen on table below:

Source: The result of pre-test on October 14, 2017

To get Average score, the researcher used following formula:

$$\bar{X} = \frac{\sum X}{N}$$

\bar{X} = Mean/Class average score
 N = Number of cases
 $\sum X$ = The total number of students' scores

$$\bar{X} = \frac{1241}{24} = 51,70$$

From the calculation above, it says that class average score is 51,70.

Percentage of KKM Pre-test

$$P = \frac{\sum X}{N} \times 100\%$$

P = Percentages of pre-test KKM
 N = Number of cases
 $\sum X$ = The students who get 70 or > 70

$$P = \frac{5}{24} \times 100\%$$

$$= 20,83\%$$

From the calculation above, it says that percentages of pre-test KKM is 20,83%.

From the result of pre-test, it can be seen that the highest score is 78 and the lowest score is 27. The average score of pre-test is 51,70. From the table, that are 19 students who get the below target of score (under the MSC) and 5 students get above score from the MSC. Then based on the result of pre-test, it could be seen that the target based on Minimum Standard Criteria (MSC) has not been achieve yet.

2) The Second Meeting

The second meeting was conducted on October 18th 2017 for 2x40 minutes. In this meeting was used as the implementation of the action in cycle 1. The meeting started by praying, greeting, checking the attendance list and asking about students condition. In the beginning of learning process, the researcher explained what recount text is, then explained the generic structure also the use of past tense in writing recount text. The researcher gave one example of recount text. After that, the researcher encourages the students to find the generic structure and past tense verb in the given recount text. Then, the researcher asked the students to make sentences for each word they found in the text and the students shared their work in a pair. After that, The researcher explained to the students about peer review technique and gave example how to do peer review. After that, the researcher asked the students to work in pairs of two students and shared their writing. The researcher gave peer review guidelines and students did peer review. The researcher asked the students read and gave comments on their peer writing based on Pre-Test Paper about “Unforgettable Momemnt” that they wrote before. Finally, the students revised and corrected their writing based on the peer feedback during writing activity.

In the last meeting the researcher and the students discussed about the things that were still unclear and concludes it. So the researcher greets to closing the meeting.

3) The Third Meeting

The third meeting was conducted on October 21st 2017 for 2x40 minutes. This meeting used as post-test 1 after giving the treatment. It started by praying, greeting, checking attendance list and asking about students’ condition. The researcher asked about material had given in the last meeting, than the researcher gave post-test to the students.

The kind of the test was written test. The students must write their own experience about “Study Tour”. In the post-test 1 only 10 students who got good score, but the result of the students test was better than the students' test before giving treatment. The result of post-test 1 can be seen on table below:

To get Average score, the researcher used following formula:

$$\bar{X} = \frac{\sum X}{N}$$

\bar{X} = Mean/Class average score
 N = Number of cases
 $\sum X$ = The total number of students' scores

$$\bar{X} = \frac{1478}{24} = 61,58$$

From the calculation above, it says that class average score is 61,58.

Percentage of KKM Pre-test

$$P = \frac{\sum X}{N} \times 100\%$$

P = Percentages of pre-test KKM
 N = Number of cases
 $\sum X$ = The students who get 70 or > 70
 $P = \frac{11}{24} \times 100\%$
 $= 45,83\%$

From the calculation above, it says that percentages of Pos-Test I KKM is 45,83%

From the result of post-test 1, it can be seen that the highest score is 80 and the lowest score is 25. The average score of post test 1 is 61,58. From the table, that are 13 students who get the below target of score, and 11 students get score from standard criteria.

3. Observation

The observing was done by researcher and collaborator during learning process. There were some observations that had been done such as: observation on the students' activities, and observation on the result of the evaluation.

This is explanations from the points above:

1) Students' Activities

In observing, the researcher presented in one meeting in cycle 1 of writing recount text by using Peer Review Technique. In this time the researcher gave the material to the students but the students still faced some difficulties in writing recount text.

The observation that was conducted on students' activities as follows:

Table 10
The Percentage of the Students' Activity

No	Students' Activity	Frequency	Percentage
1	Give an attention to the researchers explanation	12	50%
2	Enthusiastically join the learning process	11	45,9%
3	Able to understand of material by using Peer Review Technique	5	20,8%
4	Responding the researcher question	8	33,3%

Based on the data above explain that the total of students who give attention to the researcher explanation are 12 students (50%). Students enthusiastically join the learning process only 11 students (45,9%). The Poor is only 5 students (20,8%) able to understand of material by using Peer Review Technique but there are 8 students (33,3%) who responding the researcher question.

4. Reflection

Based on the result of the first meeting, the researcher analyzes the difficulties in writing recount text. In the second meeting, the students got many difficulties in organizing paragraph and the grammatical use. Other factor that made it not effective because the students did not know the mistakes that they have made and the possible factors that caused those problems was the lack of writing practice makes students resultance in writing. The researcher did not give sufficient explanation about the topic and did not give sufficient guidance and simulation.

With the end of cycle 1, the researcher and collaborator do the reflection together. Based on the data entered the reflection in cycle 1 was still found in the deficiencies that occurred in the cycle 1. As for deficiencies in the first cycle, there were; while the researcher explain the materials, the researcher gave less attention to every student, the researcher was low in explain the material, so that students who were noisy and some students got failure in the test of cycle 1.

The reflection result can be inferred that:

- 1) The researcher should be more paying more attention to the students.
- 2) The researcher should monitor the students one by one while learning process.
- 3) The researcher should give more attention to the students who are responsive and try to give more attention to students who are irresponsive.
- 4) Furthermore, the result of the learning results in cycle I before and doing the treatment could be concluded in the following table:

The Poor is only 5 students (20,8%) able to understand of material by using Peer Review Technique but there are 8 students (33,3%) who responding the researcher question.

Based on the result above, it could be inferred that the learning process of cycle 1 is not successful because only one activity get percentage 50% that pay attention of the researcher's explanation and others got < 60%.

b. Cycle II

Based on the result of cycle I was not success, in the stage need to be held the cycle II again to repair the weakness in the cycle 1. The step of cycle II as follow:

1. Planning

Based on the activity in cycle I, the process at the cycle II was focused on the problem in Cycle I. There are still many weaknesses on cycle I such as the students not focus to join the class and they hard to understand the materials. The researcher and the collaborator planned the materials. The researcher prepared the lesson plan, material, gave the pot-test and gave evaluation. By using Peer Review Technique the researcher tried to improve the students' writing skill in recount text and hoped it would help to improve the students' interested in learning English.

2. Action

The action in the cycle II consist of two meeting, one meeting for the action, and one meeting for the post-test. The explanation of every meeting will be explained below:

1) The First Meeting

The first meeting was done on, October 25th 2017 for 2x40 minutes. This meeting was opened by praying, greeting, asking the students' condition and checking the attendance list. In this meeting, the researcher asked to the students about previous lesson and cycle one test. While teaching and learning process using Peer Review Technique well and more interested in the class to be more enthusiastic, interest, and the students gave full attention to the researcher explanation, so, it can made the students interest in learning process, especially in teaching recount text using Peer Review Technique.

Meanwhile, the researcher was explaining the material more clearly than before, and the researcher explained more about past tense. The researcher gave an example of sentences with some errors and exercises. After that, the researcher asked the students to do the exercises. The students discuss the exercises. This exercises purposed to the students can write recount text correctly. After that, the students ido peer review of their first cycle test and let the students to work in pair in order to make them easier to classify and discuss. The students work in pairs of two students and share their writing. Then, The researcher gives peer review checklist and students do peer Review The researcher asked the students read and gave comments on their peer writing about "Study Tour". Then, the students revised and corrected their writing based on the peer feedback during do writing activity. The next stage, different with the activity in the first cycle, because the researcher gave more attention one by one while teaching learning process and the students can asked to the researcher about the material which not unclear.

When the time was over, the students should gave the paper to the owner. It made the students can know what the strengths are and weaknesses or what are missing from their writing so they can revise and improve it.

The condition in the class of this meeting more effective than before. In the end of teaching and learning process, the researcher gave the evaluation to measure how far the material that the researcher explain can be understand by the students.

2) The Second Meeting

The second meeting was conducted on October 28th 2017. This meeting used to post-test 2 in the end of cycle II for 2x40 minutes. The researcher gave post-test to the students to write a recount text with the theme “My Holiday”, and the result can be seen in the table as follows:.

To get Average score, the researcher used following formula:

$$\bar{X} = \frac{\sum X}{N}$$

\bar{X} = Mean/Class average score
 N = Number of cases
 $\sum X$ = The total number of students' scores

$$\bar{X} = \frac{1778}{24} = 74,08$$

From the calculation above, it says that class average score is 74,08.

$$P = \frac{\sum X}{N} \times 100\%$$

P = Percentages of pre-test KKM
 N = Number of cases
 $\sum X$ = The students who get 70 or > 70
 $P = \frac{21}{24} \times 100\%$
 $= 87,5\%$

From the calculation above, it says that percentages of Post-test 2 KKM is 87,5%

Based on the table above, it could be seen that the students' average score in post-test II was 74. The highest score is 92 and the lowest score is 33. According to minimum standard criteria 87% students passed the test. Most of the students could improve their writing recount text. It means that cycle II is successful.

3. Observation

At this stage, the observation was done by researcher and collaborator during learning process. There were some observation that had been done, such as; observation sheet on the students' activities, the researcher's note, and observation on the result of the evaluation.

1) Students' activities

Observation is done on the cycle II is almost similar with the observation of the cycle I. From the observation of the students' activities on cycle II, can be seen that give an attention to the researcher's explanation 95,8%, able to study in each of their team 79,1%, active in working cooperatively to classify the language features 95,8%, and practice in writing recount text 83,3%.

A Beautiful Day at Jogja

My friends and I went to Yogyakarta When I was 2nd grade of senior high school. We were there for three days. I had many impressive experiences during the vacation.

First, we visited Parang tritis beach. The sun shone brightly and the scenery was very beautiful there. We felt the wind blew across to us. We also saw a lot of people in that beach. There were many birds flew in the sky. Also, there were many sellers who sold many kinds of souvenirs. Second, we visited Gembira Loka Zoo. We saw many kinds of animals there such as monkeys, tigers, crocodiles, snakes, etc. We looked around in that Zoo, and also took pictures of those animals. Then, we felt hungry, so we went to a restaurant. As soon as we finished our lunch, we decided to go home.

That was a beautiful day. We really enjoyed it, and I hope I could visit Jogja again.

Last holiday, I and my family visited Lembah Pelangi Waterfall in Ngarip District, Tanggamus Regency, Lampung. It was the first time for me to visit such a wonderful waterfall.

It was quite windy there and all I could see only green.. green.. and green..

Finally the day was get dark and it was time for us to go home. It was such an unforgettable holiday for me. I really enjoy it.

My Bad Day on Sunday

I had a terrible day yesterday, first I wake up an hour late because my alarm clock does not go off. Then I was in such hurry that I burned my hand when I was (make breakfast). I get dressed so quick that I forget to wear socks.

Next I ran out of the house trying to get the 9:30 bus, but of course I missed it. I wanted to take a taxi, but I do not have enough money.

Finally, I walked the three miles to my school. Only to discover that it is Sunday! I hope I never had a day as the one I had yesterday.
