The researcher applied that the Defends strategy can be one of the teaching strategies to improve students' writing skill.

This research method was Classroom action research (PTK) which is carried out in two cycles. Each cycle consists of planning, execution, observation and reflection. The subject of this study was a student of class XI SMAN 1Kibang which amounted to 30 students. In data collection, researcher use tests consisting of initial tests, final tests I and final test II, observation and documentation. The research was conducted collaboratively with English teacher SMAN 1Kibang.

The results of this study showed that the Defends strategy improved the writing skill of SMAN 1Kibang class students. The result of post-test 2 shows that the percentage of students' reading skill achieved passing grade is 97 %. In addition, the percentage of students' learning activity in cyle 2 is 87%. It means that the students' learning activity achieves the indicator of succes.

Windyana Prestiwanti

Tujuan dari penelitian ini adalah untuk menunjukkan bahwa strategi Decide, Estimate, Figure, Express, Note, Drive, And Search (Defends) dapat meningkatkan kemampuan menulis dan aktivitas pembiasaan siswa kelas XI SMAN 1 Kibang. Peneliti mencoba mengaplikasikan bahwa strategi Defends dapat menjadi salah satu strategi pengajaran untuk meningkatkan kemampuan pemahaman menulis siswa.

Metode penelitian ini adalah Penelitian Tindakan Kelas (PTK) yang dilaksanakan dalam dua siklus. Setiap siklus terdiri dari perencanaan, pelaksanaan, observasi dan refleksi. Subjek penelitian ini adalah siswa kelas XI SMAN 1 Kibang yang berjumlah 30 siswa. Dalam pengumpulan data, peneliti menggunakan tes yang terdiri dari tes awal, tes akhir I dan tes akhir II, observasi dan dokumentasi. Penelitian dilakukan secara kolaboratif dengan guru bahasa Inggris SMAN 1 Kibang.

Hasil penelitian ini menunjukkan bahwa strategi Defends berdampak positif dalam meningkatkan kemampuan pemahaman menulis siswa kelas SMAN 1 Kibang. Hasil penelitian menunjukkan bahwa nilai rata-rata siswa dari pre-test hingga post test meningkat. Nilai rata-rata pada pre-test adalah 60,53, post-test I 72,43 dan menjadi 83,33 pada post-test II.

CHAPTER I

INTRODUCTION

A. Background of the Study

English one of the language in the world. English has become an international language that is used by all countries as the first, second, or the foreign that determines English as foreign language language. It has also been compulsory subject to Indonesia learns from student IAIN Metro.

In teaching a foreign language, language skill and component are important. The four language skill are listening, speaking, reading, and writing. While the components of language of subjects matters of language are a stock of words and expressions and the rules that govern the syntax of its patterns, that is vocabulary and grammar.

Writing is one of the important aspect in language learning. By writing, the learners can share information and ideas with others through written text. Writing performance can help them to think critically and to clarify their thoughts smoothly. Writing is also as a learning tool, helping them to understand what they have discovered.

Learning to write is not as easy as expected. There are still many students who do not like to write because of some factors such as being lazy and lack of motivation and interest in writing. There are still many students who are lazy to write because most assume that writing is difficult. In addition, there are many other problems in writing such as lack of vocabulary, lack of grammar and low motivation to move writing. The problem is that students still have difficulty in the writing process, especially in developing texts, determining ideas to express in English.

One of the solution to the students' writing problem is to use Decide, Estimate, Figure, Express, Note, Drive, And Search (DEFENDS) Strategy. DEFENDS strategy is recommended in developing students' writing skill independently or in groups. The teacher plays the role of instructing students in the good writing process by determining the topic, creating the main idea, grouping ideas, defining the first paragraph as the opening of the text, creating the content of the text, writing the final paragraph.

Based on the explanation above, the researcher conducted a classroom action research by implementing Defends strategy. Hopefully, the implementation this strategy can improve student's writing skill. Therefore, the researcher construct a reseach proposal entitled "The Use of Decide, Estimate, Figure, Express, Note, Drive, And Search (DEFENDS) Strategy to Improve the Students' Writing Skill among the Eleventh Graders at SMAN 1 Kibang in the Academic Year of 2021/2022"

The results of the pre-survey above are represented in the following table :

The Classification of the Writing Skill at SMAN 1 Kibang

No	Passing Grade	Number	Percentage	Criteria
1	≤ 75	10 students	33 %	Complete
2	> 75	20 students	67 %	Incomplete

Based on the results of pre-survey above, it is known that the percentage of students who are able to achieve Minimum Mastery Criteria is 33%; while the percentage of students who are unable to achieve 67 %. It means that the number of students who are able to achieve Minimum Mastery Criteria is less. Therefore, it can be concluded that the writing skill the eleventh grade of SMA N 1 Kibang is low.

Based on the result of interviews conducted in the pre-survey process, it is known that students' writing problems are caused by the limitations of their English grammar skill, so that they experience difficulty the writing process. In addition, the students have difficulty finding the main ideas or supporting ideas continued in a writing. They have low motivation to write the text in English.

In conducting research in the classroom, the researcher conducted classroom action research by online by using the class group WhatsApp application by staying in the monitoring of English teachers. In the application of defends through WhatsApp the researcher group implemented the teaching steps of writing.

In the application of defends through WhatsApp group the researcher applied every step of teaching defends through WhatsApp group effectively because strategy defends can be applied both online and offline.

B. Problem Identification

Based on the background of study that is explained above, the researcher can identify some problems that are caused by:

1. Students have limited English vocabulary skill.
2. Students have have low English grammatical mastery.
3. Students have difficulty in developing the basic ideas in the process of writing.
4. Students have low writing ability.

C. Problem Limitation

Based on the problems that have been identified, the researcher limits the problem of research by focusing on number four, namely the lack of writing ability of students. The researcher considers the use of teaching strategies defends can help efforts to improve students' writing skill.

D. Problem Formulation

Based on the problems limitation above, the researcher problem is formulated as Can the use of The Use of Decide, Estimate, Figure, Express, Note, Drive, And Search (DEFENDS) strategy improve the students' writing skill among the eleventh graders at SMAN 1 Kibang in the Academic year of 2021/2022?

E. Objectives of the Study

The objective of the research is to improve students' writing skill by using Decide, Estimate, Figure, Express, Note, Drive, and Search (DEFENDS) among the Eleventh Graders at SMAN 1 Kibang in the Academic year of 2021/2022.

F. Benefits of Study

The benefits of this study are:

1. Theoretical Benefits

- a. The result of the research paper can be useful to enrich input English teaching learning process for teaching writing using DEFENDS strategy.
- b. The result of this research can be used as reference for those who want to conduct a research in English teaching learning process.

2. Practical Benefits

a. For the teacher

The researcher hopes that this research helps the teacher in guiding the students' ability in teaching learning process, especially in teaching writing that can implement DEFENDS strategy.

b. For the student

The students can improve their writing skill and stimulate them to develop their writing skill.

c. For the headmaster

This result can be a positive motivation for the headmaster to always increase the quality of education in the school by upgrading teacher's ability in teaching and learning process.

G. Prior Research

There are three previous researches that have relation to this research. The first prior research is done by Dewi, N.L.K. Artini in her thesis entitled "A Comparative Study on the Implementation of Strategy Difends and Please Strategy Toward Students Writing Competency SMP N 2 Singaraja"¹. This study was an experimental study investigated the significant difference in writing competency between the students taught by using DEFENDS and PLEASE strategi. To conduct this research the seventh grade students of SMP N 2 Singaraja in the academic year 2017/2018 were selected to be sample.

¹ 2 Dewi, N.L.K1, Artini, L.P2, Piscayanti, K.S3, "A Comparative Study on the Implementation of Defends and Please Strategies Toward Students Writing Competency in Smp N 2 Singaraja," English Education Department Ganesha University of Education vol.5 No.2,2017,p 01

Two classes were treated differently by implementing DEFENDS and PLEASE strategies. Pre Test-Post Test Non Control Group Design was implemented in this experiment.

The first prior research similarities and differences with this study. The similarities between the first prior research this study language skill and teaching strategy. The data of students' writing competency were collected by using post test. This research discovers that there is a significant difference in writing competency between the students' taught by using DEFENDS strategy and those taught by PLEASE strategy. This finding demonstrating that DEFENDS strategy is more effective for teaching writing, especially in the content of descriptive text.

In addition, a study entitled "DEFENDS" as An Effective Writing Strategy to Create Students Creativity" Research conducted by Mu'alim Ibnu Fathoni, Sumardi, Slamet Supriyadi in 2019 Teacher Training and Education Faculty, Sebelas Maret University, Surakarta, Indonesia.²

Research dealing with creativity in writing is needed. This research was an experimental design called post-test design using 2x2 factorial arrangements. The sample was high school students. Two instruments used by the researcher; those were writing test and creativity test.

In another previous study conducted by Riny Dwitya Sani entitled "Teaching Writing By Combining Brain Writing And Defends (Decide, Estimate, Figure, Express, Note, Drive, And Search) Strategy At Senior High

CHAPTER II

THE REVIEW OF RELATED THEORIES

A. Theoretical Review

1. The Concept of Writing

a. The Definition of Writing

According to John Langan, writing is not an automatic process that the writers do not get something for nothing and we should not expect to. For almost everyone, competent writing comes from plain hard work from determination, sweat, and head-on battle.

In addition to believing that writing is a natural gift, many people falsely believe that writing should flow in a simple, straight line from the writers' head onto the written page. But writing is seldom an easy, one-step journey in which a finished paper comes out in a first draft.⁴

b. The Definition Of Writing Skill

Meanwhile, Johnstone defines Writing Skill is the one of basic skills and of the English language.⁵ In addition, writing skill the most important of skills and language.

This means that what is meant by writing is a skill in sharing information and expressing ideas from the writer to the reader through the written form the writer has written. In addition, the writer must use systematic language that is in accordance with language rules that are easily learned by the reader in the process of delivering information.

c. The Process of Writing

Firstly, planning is the preparation before writing that refers to think about purposes and ideas. When planning, the writer has to think about three main issues. The first is the purpose of the writing, it includes the type of the text the writer wants to product, the language the writers use, and the information they choose. The second is the audience, who are the reader of the writing. So the writer must attend the choice of the language informal or formal writing. The last is the content structure that is how sequence the facts, ideas, or argumentation which the writer decided to included.⁶ Secondly, producing text is generating the language that refers to arranged words to be systematic sentences and paragraph. Finally, reviewing is the process that consist of evaluating, revising and editing the result of writing.

On the other hand, a much deeper Donal Graves in Andrew P. Johnson explains that there are five steps of writing process.⁷ There are:

⁶ Jeremy harmer, How To Teach Writing, Pearson Longman, England, 2007, p. 5

⁷ Andrew P. Johnson, Teaching Reading and Writing, (United State of America: Britis Library Cataloging, 2008), p.179

1) Prewriting

The goal of prewriting is to generate ideas. Listing, brainstorming, outlining, silent thinking, conversation with a neighbor, or power writing (described below) are all ways to generate ideas. ⁸ It means that before the students are going to write, they must to plan or generate idea in order to know what the matter that they want to write.

2) Drafting

Drafting is the writer's first attempt to capture ideas on paper. Correctly, the draft is a rambling, disconnected accumulation of ideas. Most of the writing activities in the classroom involve just these first two steps. Only those drafts that students feel are interesting or of value should be taken to the next step. The drafting process refers to the writer's effort to infuse his idea with a systematic language on the paper.

3) Revising

This is the heart of the writing process. Here a piece is revised and reshaped many times. The draft stage is like throwing a large blob of clay on the potter's wheel. Revising is where the students shape the blob, adding parts, taking parts away, adding parts, and continually molding and changing. Here the students look for flow and structure. The students reread paragraphs and move things around.

⁸*Ibit*

4) Editing

This is the stage where grammar, spelling, and punctuation errors are corrected. A word of caution: The quickest way to ruin a good writing project or damage a writer is to insist that step 4 be included in step 1, 2, or 3. If writers are editing or worrying about mechanics at the prewriting, drafting, and revising stages, the flow of ideas and the quality of writing suffers. Precious brain space that is devoted to generating and connecting ideas are instead utilized worrying about writing mechanics.

5) Publishing and sharing

This is where students' writing is shared with an audience. Writing becomes real and alive at this point. Publishing can involve putting together class books, collections of writing, school or class newspapers, school or class magazines, or displaying short samples of writing in the hall or out in the community. Writing experiences become even more powerful by having students read their work out loud in small groups, to another classmate, or in a large group setting.

d. Componen of Writing

According to J.B Heaton the criteria of each witing score are:
content (30-13), organization (20-7), vocabullary (20-7), language use (25-5), mechanic (5-2)⁹.

Using Writing Rubrics to Measure Students' Writing Skills.

Score Content
30-27	excelent to very good: knowledgeable substantive etc.
26-22	good to average: some knowledge of subject little substance etc
21-17	fair to poor limitedknowledge of subject little substance etc.

e. The Concept Of Decide, Estimate, Figure, Express, Note, Drive, A Search (DEFENDS) Strategy

1) The Definition of Decide, Estimate, Figure, Express, Note, Drive, And Search (DEFENDS) Strategy

Decide, Estimate, Figure, Express, Note, Drive, And Search (DEFENDS) is a mnemonic strategy for writing an opinion paper that consists of some steps including of Decide on your exact position (D), Examine the reasons for your position (E), Form a list *of points that explain each reason (F), Expose your position in the first sentence (E), Note each reason for supporting points (N), Drive home the position in the last sentence (D), Search for errors and correct (S).*¹⁰

The mnemonic Decide, Estimate, Figure, Express, Note, Drive, And Search (DEFENDS) is a strategy for planning another type of expository writing—persuasive or opinion writing.¹¹

In other words, Defends strategy is very useful not only in the planning process but in the process of developing good writing in the form of text types.

That means that defends strategy is very in the process of writing because this strategy can be used from the planing process to the revision process of a text.

Furthermore, DEFENDS is a teaching strategy that buildsthe awareness of appropriate cognitive academic language and develops analytical skills.¹²

In other words, defends strategy is very useful in developing the writer's ability to think krits against a theme developed into complex writing.

¹²CatherinCollier,Strategy for A to Wfor Multi System of Support(Corwin:Chruch Street.2017),p 25

DEFENDS is a teaching strategy that is particularly useful for gifted or learning-disabled students because it improves the organizational flow of student writing.¹³

2) Benefit of DEFENDS Strategy

Benefit of the DEFENDS strategy are as follow:¹⁴

- a. Assisting learners to defend a particular position in a written assignment
- b. Building academic transfer skills
- c. Building awareness of appropriate cognitive academic language
- d. Developing analytical skills
- e. Developing extended time on task
- f. Developing field independent skills

- u. Strengthening language development
- v. Strengthening learning to learn skills
- w. Strengthening retention and application abilities
- x. Expand and improve comprehension

3) Steps of Teaching Procedure DEFENDS Strategy

Steps of Teaching Procedure by Using DEFENDS Strategy¹⁵

- a. The teacher reads an example of a passage that defends a particular position on a topic or area of interest to the students. The teacher or assistant introduces the students to the vocabulary words: decide, examine, form, expose, note, drive, and search. He or she explains how the example passage "defends" a position and shows how points are made to support the position or idea. He or she shows how the position is "driven" home.

¹⁵Catherin Collier, Strategy for A to W for Multi System of Support (Corwin: Church Street, 2017), p 25

- b. Students are asked to read the passage and note each reason and its associated points, creating a list of points. The teacher then has students try writing their own version of the passage using DEFENDS. The vocabulary words, decide, examine, form, expose, note, drive, and search, may be printed on posters with space for posting examples or on the chalkboard. As the teacher explains each term, he or she asks for examples from the example passage or a familiar previous reading.
- c. The teacher writes these examples under the word on the poster or chalkboard. Then students can combine them into a composition as an example.
- d. To help the students remember the steps in DEFENDS, the teacher can provide the students with a printed form with the letters D, E, F, E, N, D, and S down the left side and their.
- e. The students decide on their exact position in the process of writing the topic.
- f. The students examine the reasons for their position.
- g. The students form a list of points that explain each reason.
- h. The students the student's Expose your position in the first sentence.
- i. The students note each reason for supporting points.
- j. The students drive home the position in the last sentence.
- k. The students search for errors and correct.

B. Action Hypothesis

The action hypothesis this research is as follow:

The Use Of Decide, Estimate, Figure, Express, Note, Drive, And Search (DEFENDS) Strategy Can Improve The Students' Writing Skill Among The Eleventh Graders At SMAN 1 Kibang In The Academic Year Of 2021/2022.

CHAPTER III

RESEARCH METHOD

A. Variables and Operational Definition of Variables

1. Variables of Research

This research consists of two variables they are independent and dependent variables. The independent variable in this research is Decide, Estimate, Figure, Express, Note, Drive, and Search (DEFENDS) that was implemented to increase the students' writing skill in easy way. This strategy is useful to make their writing is excellent in paragraphs of sentences.

The dependent variable of this research is writing skill as one of the four of language skills that has to be mastered by the students in order to be able to write their ideas effectively.

2. Operational Definition of Variable

Operational definition is the definition that based on characteristic of the things that was defined, and it can be observed or measured. Meanwhile, variable can be defined as an attribute of a person or a subject which varies from object to object.¹⁶ According to Raymond Mark, the definition an operational tells us what activities or operation we need to perform to measure a concept or variable.¹⁷

¹⁶John creswell, Research Design Qualitative, Quantitative, and Mixed Method Approaches, (Lincoln: SAGE Publications,2002), p.24.

¹⁷ Allen Rubin & Earl R Babie, Esential research Method for Social Work, (Engaged Learning: United State of America,2010), p.70.

Based on the statement, the definition operational of the variable in this research are:

a. Dependent Variable

According to Evelyn Hatch, dependent variable is the major variable that was measure in the research. Dependent variable is a variable that can improve by an independent variable.¹⁸The dependent variable of this research is students' writing skill that focuses on the students' skill.

To measure writing skill of students, the researcher administrated the writing test by asking the students to compose a text in English. It is a simple test as a sample to know about the students' writing skill. The indicators of a writing skill test in this variable are:

- 1) The students are able to write the composition of facual report with the appropriate content with the writing topic..
- 2) The students are able to write the composition of facual report with the appropriate sentence structure.
- 3) The students are able to write the composition of facual report with the appropriate vocabulary.
- 4) The students are able to write the composition of facual report with the appropriate organization.
- 5) The students are able to write the composition of facual report with the appropriate writing mechanic writing.

¹⁸*Ibid*, p.63

b. The independent Variable

According to Evelyn, Independent Variable is variable that the researcher suspects may relate to or improve the dependent variable. In a sense, the dependent variable “defends” on the independent variable.¹⁹

This variable was measured by observation. To observe this variable the researcher used observation sheet. The measurement of this variable is 1- 4 score. The indicators of this variable are:

- 1) The students show good respond to learn writing using Decide, Estimate, Figure, Express, Note, Drive, and Search (DEFENDS)
- 2) The students have more concentration to write the paragraph in English

B. The Research Setting

The researcher conducted Classroom Action research (CAR) at SMAN 1 Kibang East Lampung. The object of this research is the students’ writing skill at XI IPA 1 of SMAN 1 Kibang, consists of 30 students. The school was built at 2001 and located at Metro Kibang.

C. The Subject of the Research

This research is Classroom Action Research (CAR). The subject of this action research is the students of XIIPA 1 of SMAN 1 Kibang. SMAN 1 Kibang is one of the oldest schools in East Lampung. It has 481 students and 52 teachers.

¹⁹ Evelyn Hatch and Anne Lazaraton, The Research Design and Statistics For Applied Statistic, (USA: Heinle Publisher, 1991), p.64

The teacher chooses one of the classes that the students had a lower average score in writing. Based on the teacher's experience during teaching and learning activities in writing of English subject, the teacher indicated that the students are difficult lack in vocabularies for making sentences in paragraph, exactly the DEFENDS strategy is the problem solution for making the students better.

		Male	Female

D. Research Procedure

The design of this research is classroom action research. It is called CAR because the research is aimed at developing a certain instructional technique to solve problems in a class.

According to Glenda Mac, action research is a cyclical process of 'think-do-think' to research and create change. We think about what we do at present, then we do something to create change, then we think again about what we've done and its effects.²⁰

Jean Mc Niff Also stated that, "Action research is a name given to a particular way of researching your own learning. It is a practical way of looking at your practice in order to check whether it is as you feel it should be.”²¹

Based on the statement above, the researcher can say that Classroom Action Research is a reflective study done by the teacher in a classroom for getting solution about the problem until it can be solved. In addition, classroom action research helps the teacher to solve problem by applying a new method, strategy, or technique as an alternative way leading to innovation.

In this Classroom Action Research (CAR), consisted²² of the cycle and consisted of four steps, namely planning, acting, observing and reflecting. The researcher describes the cycles through the scheme of action research design by Kurt Lewin as follows:

Figure 1
Kurt Lewin's Action Research Design
(Adapted from Jean McNiff, 2002)³

CAR was applied in this research since it is regarded important to develop writing skill of the eleventh grader of SMA N 1 Kibang by Decide, Estimate, Figure, Express, Note, Drive, and Search (DEFENDS) strategy applying,

²⁰Jean McNiff and Jack Whitehead, Action Research: Principles and Practice, (New York: Routledge Falmer, 2002) Second Edition, p.15

²²*Ibid*, p.41

by applying this strategy it is expected to solve students' problems in teaching-learning process of writing skill.

The classroom action research design applied in this research is a collaborative classroom action research. In conducting the research, the researcher collaborated with the real English teacher of SMAN 1 Kibang as an observer and collaborator. The researcher played a role as an English teacher who teaches writing skill through Decide, Estimate, Figure, Express, Note, Drive, and Search (DEFENDS) to the students, while the real English teacher's role is as an observer who observes the action of the research while teaching-learning activities happens in the classroom. Also the real English teacher acts as a collaborator when helps the researcher in designing lesson plan, carrying out the reflection, and determining the follow up of the study. Here, the researcher is not only as an observer but the researcher also took actions by making lesson plan and giving assessment. Then, the researcher also collecting and analyzing data together with the teacher to know the result of their student writing result.

According to the Kurt Lewin's action research design, the researcher wants to describe a plan for Classroom Action Research (CAR) as follows:

1. Cycle 1

a. Planning

After interviewing, observing and conducting test before CAR.

The teacher and the researcher make instruments, as follows:

- 1) The researcher prepares the lesson plan based on the 2013 curriculum and English syllabus.

- 2) The researcher prepares the observational note and guidelines
- 3) The researcher prepares the instrument of written tests before and after CAR.

b. Acting

In this phase, the researcher acts as the teacher and the real teacher becomes the observer. The researcher conducts some activities in the class as follows:

1) Pre-Teaching

- a) The researcher greets the students and checks the attendance list.
- b) The researcher gives warm up activities.
- c) The researcher explains general overview related to the topics of text.
- d) The researcher confirms the students their comprehension about the text.

2) Whilst Teaching

- a) The teacher reads an example of a passage that defends a particular position on a topic or area of interest to the students.
- b) Students are asked to read the passage and note each reason and its associated points, creating a list of points. The teacher then has students try writing their own version of the passage using DEFENDS.

- c) The teacher writes these examples under the word on the poster or chalkboard. Then students can combine them into a composition as an example.
- d) The students remember the steps in DEFENDS, the teacher can provide the students with a printed form with the letters D, E, F, E, N, D, and S down the left side and their
- e) The students decide on their exact position in the process of writing the topic.
- f) The students examine the reasons for their position.
- g) The students form a list of points that explain each reason.
- h) The students the student's Expose your position in the first sentence.
- i) The students note each reason for supporting points.
- j) The students drive home the position in the last sentence.
- k) The students search for errors and correct.

3) Post-Teaching

- a) The researcher gives a conclusion the learning process.
- b) The researcher closes the class.

c. Observing

In this phase, the researcher conducted some activities as follows:

- 1) The real teacher observers teaching learning activity in the classroom, such as class situation, teacher's performance, and students' response.

- 2) Identifies the students' achievement in learning writing skill by giving the test after CAR in cycle 1.
- 3) The researcher calculates students' improvement scores from test before CAR to test after CAR in cycle 1 whether improving or not.

d. Reflecting

In this phase, the researcher and teacher have some activities as follows:

- 1) The teacher and the researcher discuss not only about the result of the implementation of CAR, but also students' achievement and the media.
- 2) The teacher and the researcher prepare the lesson plan for the next cycle and for test after CAR in cycle 2 in order to know the improvement of students' score and to solve the problem unfinished yet.

2. Cycle 2

a. Planning

After interviewing, observing and conducting test before CAR. The teacher and the researcher make instruments, as follows:

- 1) The researcher prepares the lesson plan based on the 2013 curriculum and English syllabus.
- 2) The researcher prepares the observational note and guidelines
- 3) The researcher prepares the instrument of written tests before and after CAR.

b. Acting

In this phase, the researcher acts as the teacher and the real teacher becomes the observer. The researcher conducts some activities in the class as follows:

1) Pre-Teaching

- a) The researcher greets the students and checks the attendance list.
- b) The researcher gives warm up activities.
- c) The researcher explains general overview related to the topics of text.
- d) The researcher confirms the students their comprehension about the text.

2) Whilst Teaching

- a) The teacher reads an example of a passage that defends a particular position on a topic or area of interest to the students.
- b) Students are asked to read the passage and note each reason and its associated points, creating a list of points. The teacher then has students try writing their own version of the passage using DEFENDS.
- c) The teacher writes these examples under the word on the poster or chalkboard. Then students can combine them into a composition as an example.

- d) The students remember the steps in DEFENDS, the teacher can provide the students with a printed form with the letters D, E, F, E, N, D, and S down the left side and their
- e) The students decide on their exact position in the process of writing the topic.
- f) The students examine the reasons for their position.
- g) The students form a list of points that explain each reason.
- h) The students the student's Expose your position in the first sentence.
- i) The students note each reason for supporting points.
- j) The students drive home the position in the last sentence.
- k) The students search for errors and correct.

3) Post-Teaching

- a) The researcher gives a conclusion about the learning process.
- b) The researcher closes the class.

c. Observing

- 1) The real teacher observes of teaching learning activity in the classroom, which includes class situation, teacher's performance, and students' response.
- 2) Students are given the test after CAR in cycle 2.
- 3) The researcher calculates students' improvement scores from test before CAR to test after CAR in cycle 1 to test after CAR in cycle

d. Reflecting

- 1) The researcher and the teacher discuss about the result of the implementation CAR by modifying a new strategy in action, about students' response with the media, about improvement students' score in writing and about analyzing the result from test after CAR in cycle 1 to test after CAR in cycle 2.
- 2) And then, the researcher and the teacher make an agreement, if the target is not achieved, the action was continued to cycle 3, but if the target is achieved, the action was stopped.

E. The Data Collection Technique

There are two types of collecting data: qualitative data and quantitative data. The researcher uses observation dealing with the qualitative data. On the other side, the researcher uses the students' final result score of writing as a pre-test and post-test to obtain the quantitative data.

Some instruments are applied to obtain the data in this study. The completely explanation of those instruments as follow:

1. Test

The researcher uses test to get data result of the students' writing skill. The result of this test is students' writing score based on the media applied. The aim of this test is to measure the students' writing skill. The tests consist of the some types, as follows:

a. Pre-test

The pre-test was conducted before implementing Decide, Estimate, Figure, Express, Note, Drive, and Search (DEFENDS) in preparations study. Pre-test of this research was in the form of essay test that ask the students to write a composition in English.

b. Post-test

The post-test is implemented after using Decide, Estimate, Figure, Express, Note, Drive, and Search (DEFENDS) in teaching writing skill. Post-test of this research was in the form of essay test that ask the students to write a composition in English.

2. Observation

Observation is a mainstay of action research. It enables researcher to document and reflect systematically upon classroom interaction and events, as they actually occur rather than as we think they occur.²³

In this case, the researcher observes the students directly in the classroom and gets the description about students' activity in learning writing process. The real teacher also observes the researcher who teaches in the classroom and the implementation of CAR based on observation notes which already made before.

The data is taken based on the students' participants during teaching and learning activity according to lesson plan. The information obtained from this observation is used to as a basis to determine the planning for the cycle.

²²Anne Burns, Collaborative Action Research for English Language Teachers, (New York: Cambridge University Prss, 1999), p.80

3. Documentation

Documentation is collection of various documents relevant to the research questions which can include students' reading worksheet, student records and profile, course overviews, lesson plans, classroom materials.²⁴

The researcher uses the documentation method to get some information about:

- b. The history of SMAN 1 Kibang.
- c. The condition teachers and officials employes in SMAN 1 Kibang.
- d. The quantity of the students of SMAN 1 Kibang.
- e. Organization structure of SMAN 1 Kibang.
- f. Writing worksheet, course overviews and classroom materials of the students at SMAN 1 Kibang.

4. Field Note

In this research, the researcher used field note to focus on a particular issue or teaching behavior over a period of time. Moreover, the researcher used field note related to the classroom situation, classroom management, classroom interaction between teacher and students or students with students and etc.

F. Data Analysis Technique

Data analysis was conducted by taking the average score of the pre-test. The researcher uses a statistical technique. In scoring the test, the students score is counted with the following formula:²⁵

²³*Ibid*, p.117

²⁴Donald Ary at all, Introduction to Research in Education, (USA: Wadsworth Cengage Learning, 2010) Eighth edition, p.108

$$\bar{X} = \frac{\sum X}{N}$$

Notes:

\bar{X} = Mean

$\sum X$ = The total number of students' scores

N = Number of students

Moreover, to know the result the researcher compared between pre-test and post-test. The result was matched by the minimum standard in this school at least 75. The formula to figure out the percentage of the students who pass the passing grade in each cycle as follows: ²⁶

$$P = \frac{F}{N} \times 100\%$$

P = Class percentage

F = Frequency

N = Number of student

G. The Indicator of Success

To know the gain of data, the researcher analyzed the result of test by taking the average score pre-test and post-test. The indicator of success takes from the process and the result of the action research. This research is called successful if 75% of the students get minimal score 75 and 75% of the students are active in learning activities.

2. Description of the research

This research was conducted through classroom action research.

It was conducted in two cycles including of cycle I and cycle II. Each cycle consists of two meetings and each meeting takes 2x45 minutes. Each cycle comprised of planning, action, observation and reflection. In relation to manage the class, the researcher made lesson plan. The action of this research used Defends Strategy to improve the students' writing skill.

a. Pre-test activity

The study, the researcher conducted conduction on Wednesday, September 06th 2021 at 11:30 to 12:00. All students are ready when teaching time arrives. The researcher greeted the students. The researcher told the students that researcher conducted their classroom research to find out their writing skill skills before performing a class-action research action. Pre-tests are administered to students to be completed individually. This type of test is an essay. Furthermore, students' pre-test results are provided in the table below:

The Percentage of the Students Completeness Score on Pre-test

Based on the data above, it is inferred that 27 students (90%) were not successful and 3 other students (10%) were successful. The successful students were those who got the minimum mastery criteria at SMAN 1 Kibang at least 75. The successful students were fewer than those unsuccessful students. From the pre-test result, the researcher got the average of 61 so the result was unsatisfied. Therefore, the researcher used Defends Strategy to improve the students' writing skill.

b. Cycle 1

1) Planning

In the planning stage, the researcher and the collaborator prepared several things related to the teaching and learning process such as: prepared the lesson plan, made the instrument that was examined as post test in the cycle I, prepared the material, made the observation sheet of the students activity, identified the problem and found the causes of problem at the beginning and the end of learning activities. The researcher also planned to give evaluation to measure the students' mastery on the given materials.

2) Acting

The first meeting was conducted on Wednesday, October 13th 2021 at 10:30 to 12:00 and followed by 30 students. The meeting begins with praying, greeting and checking the attendance list. In implementing the Defends strategy in the Action Process, the researcher applied the ten-step Defends strategy. The researcher discussed the text read by the students. At this stage, the researcher provide factual report texts about animals the title of komodo dragon. Furthermore, researcher explained that the purpose of writing factual report text is to understand paragraphs that contain sentences to describe something. It could be about animals, natural circumstances or phenomena, tourist attractions and plants. In the first step, The students reads an example of a passage that defends a particular position on a topic or area of interest to the students.

Furthermore, in the second step, the students to read the passage and to note each reason and its associated points, creating a list of points. The students try writing their own version of the passage using DEFENDS. In the third step, the students can combine them into a composition as an example. In the fourth step, The students remember the steps in DEFENDS by providing the students with a printed form with the letters D, E, F, E, N, D, and S down the left side and their.

In the fifth steps, the students decide on their exact position in the process of writing the topic. In the sixth steps, the students examine the reasons for their The students Expose their position in the first sentence. In the seventh steps, The students form a list of points that explain each reason. In the eighth steps, the students Expose their position in the first sentence. In the ninth steps, the students note each reason for supporting points. In the tenth steps, the students search for errors and correct.

3) The second meeting

The second meeting was conducted on Saturday, August 21th 2021 at 07.30 until 09.00 for 2x45 minutes after the students given the action. The researcher began the lesson by praying, greeting, checking attendance list and asking the students condition. The activity was continued by giving some explanation more about factual report text about natural events how to apply Defends strategy to understanding. When students had understood about factual report text and had completed their task to find the main idea and supporting details. The researcher gave the opportunity for students to explain and read the results of their assignments. The students also mentioned examples of factual report text in the surrounding environment such as , animals, famous people, and also famous buildings.

Furthermore, at the end this meeting the researcher gave post test cycle I with similar task on pre test before. The result of post test 1 was better than test in pre-test before.

Based on the data above, it is inferred that 15 students (50%) were not successful and 15 other students (50%) were successful. The successful students were those who got the minimum mastery criteria at SMAN 1 Kibang at least 75. The successful students were fewer than those unsuccessful students. From the pre-test result, the researcher got the average of 72,43 so the result was unsatisfied. Therefore, the researcher used Defends Strategy to improve the students' writing skill.

3) Observing

In observing the actions of researcher, collaborators observe the student's activities. Researcher as teachers provide material about writing texts, especially factual report texts using the Defends Strategy.

While treatment is being implemented, student activities during the learning process are also being observed by observers. The students who were active in the discussion earned points by writing the text on the observation sheet for meeting 1 and meeting 2. 4) Reflecting

In this step, the researcher concluded that the result of post test 1 did not achieve the Passing grade. It was analyzed based on the result of pre-test and post-test I score. Moreover, most of the students' score had improved although the condition of learning process was uncontrolled enough.

From the result of observation in cycle I, there were some problems that found, as follows:

- a) There were some students that shown unexcited to the teacher's explanation.

Some students did not ask and answer the teacher's questions. Based on the result of reflection in cycle I, there were some suggestions to be revised in cycle II, such as:

The teacher gave more detail explanation and questions after explaining the materials to control the students.

- 1) The teacher gave more detail explanation and questions after explaining the materials to control the students.
- (2) The teacher gave reward to the students who are active and achiever.

Furthermore, the result of the learning result of cycle I before and after doing the treatment could be analyzed in the following table:

In this research, pre-test and post-test I had been done individually. It was purposed to know the ability of the students before and after the treatment. From the result of pre-test and post-test I, it was investigated that there was an improvement from the students' result score. It could be seen from the average in pre-test was 60,9 and post-test I was 72,43. Even though there was an improvement of the students' attainment, cycle I was not successful yet because only 10 students who passed in post-test I. It can be concluded that cycle I was not successful yet because the indicator of success was not achieved yet and the researcher had to revise the teaching and learning process in the next cycle. Thus, this research was continued to cycle II.

b. Cycle II

The action of cycle I was not successful enough, the cycle was continued to cycle II. Cycle II was used to repair the weakness in cycle I.

The steps of the cycle II as follows:

1. Planning

Based on the activities in the cycle I, the process at cycle II was focused on the problem on cycle I. There were some weaknesses on cycle I. In addition, the researcher and collaborator planned to give the material for students writing factual report text with the defends strategy.

The researcher and collaborator prepared the lesson plan, observation sheet of the students activities, identified the problem, and found the causes of problem at the first and the last of learning activities. The researcher planned to give evaluation to measure the students' mastery on the given materials.

2. Acting

a) The first meetings

The first meeting was conducted on Wednesday, September 29th 2021 at 10.30 to 12.00 and followed by 30 students. The meeting was started by praying, greeting and checking the attendance list. In implementing defends strategy in the process of action, the researcher applied the ten steps of defends strategy. The researcher prepared the text that was read by the students. At this stage, the researcher provided the factual report natural event.

Furthermore, in the second step, the students to read the passage and to note each reason and its associated points, creating a list of points. The students try writing their own version of the passage using DEFENDS. In the third step, the students can combine them into a composition as an example. In the fourth step, The students remember the steps in DEFENDS by providing the students with a printed form with the letters D, E, F, E, N, D, and S down the left side and their.

The second meeting

The second meeting was conducted on Wednesday, 6th October 2021 at 07.30 until 09.00 for 2x45 minutes after the students given the action. The researcher began the lesson by praying, greeting, checking attendance list and asking the students

The researcher gave the opportunity for students to explain and read the results of their assignments. The students also mentioned examples of factual report text in the surrounding environment such as , animals, famous people, and also famous buildings.

Furthermore, at the end this meeting the researcher gave post test cycle I with similar task on pre test before. The result of post test 1 was better than test in pre-test before.

From the pre-test result, the researcher got the average of 83 so the result was unsatisfied. Therefore, the researcher used Defends Strategy to improve the students' writing skill.

3. Observing

In observation of researcher action, the collaborator observed the students' activities. The researcher as a teacher gave material about writing text especially factual report text by using defends Strategy.

While the treatment was being executed, the students' activities during the learning process were also being observed by the observer. The students who were active in discussion got the point by ticking it on the observation sheet for meeting 1 and meeting 2. Based on the table above, Defends strategy could improve the students' writing comprehension ability because there was improvement from average in post- test I was 72,43 became 83,33 in post-test II. In cycle II, most of the students were able to develop their performance. It means that cycle II was successful.

B. DISCUSSION

The students' writing skill which is shown from the results of the pre-test is very low. This is because the results of the pre-test show that students who are able to complete passing grade is 10%. In the other words, the students have difficulties in writing skill. This happens because students have limited English vocabulary. They are difficult to determine the main idea, supporting ideas, and inference. This problems were known by the researcher from the result contained in the pre-test.

Therefore to address this the researcher had conducted classroom action research in two cycles by applying Defends Strategy. In the first cycle the researcher taught twice and from the results of post-test 1 showed progress in ability students' writing skill. That is because 50% of students complete passing grade from the results of post-test 1, but it had not yet reached the indicators of success. Therefore, the researcher conducted cycle 2 by applying defends Strategy. The results of post-test 2 showed success and achieved indicators of success because the percentage of students who were able to reach the passing grade is 97% . Therefore, this study was declared successful.

This progress is relevant with the theory Catherin Collier who states that DEFENDS is a teaching strategy that builds the awareness of appropriate cognitive academic language and develops analytical skills.

In addition, the progress seen in terms of learning activities in cycle 2 consist of writing of each Students are asked to read the passage and note each reason and its associated points, creating a list of points 90%, The students decide on their exact position in the process of writing the topic 80%, The students examine the reasons for their position 86%, The students form a list of points that explain each reason 96%, The students the student's Expose your position in the first sentence 90%, The students note each reason for supporting points 80%, The students drive home the position in the last sentence 93%, The students search for errors and correct 87%. The percentage indicated that learning activities in cycle II had achieved the indicator of success that is 75%. Therefore, it is concluded that is research is successful in improving the students' writing skill ability and their learning ability.

CHAPTER V

CONCLUSION AND SUGGESTION

A. CONCLUSION

The researcher would like to describe the conclusion that the writing skill ability could be improved through DEFENDS strategy at the eleventh graders of SMAN 1Kibang, as follows: the researcher concludes the research results by answering the problem formulation which consists of improving writing skill and learning activities using the DEFENDS strategy. DEFENDS Moreover, strategy improves writing skill at eleventh graders of SMAN 1Kibang the. It is investigated on the progress from pre-test to cycle I and cycle II. The result of post-test 2 shows that the percentage of students' writing skill achieved passing grade is 97 %. It means that the result of cycle II had already achieved the indicator of success that was 75% students fulfill the minimum mastery criteria (passing grade).

In addition, DEFENDS strategy can improve learning activity at the eleventh graders of SMAN 1 Kibang. The percentage of students' learning activity in cycle 2 is 87%. It means that the students' learning activity achieves the indicator of success.

B. SUGGESTION

Based on the conclusion above, some suggestions are stated to be shared more attention in teaching and learning process.

1. For English Teacher

The result of this study could be consideration for the teacher to use DEFENDS Strategy as an alternative strategy in improving writing skill.

2. For the Students

The result of this research could give positive contribution for students to improve their writing skill.

3. For Headmaster

This research can be used as the quality improvement of teaching and learning generally in English subject in SMAN 1 Kibang.

Report Text

Snakes are reptiles (cold-blooded creatures). They belong to the same group as lizards (the scaled group, Squamata) but from a sub-group of their own (Serpentes). Snakes have two legs but a long time ago they had claws to help them slither along. Snakes are not slimy. They are covered in scales which are just bumps on the skin. Their skin is hard and glossy to reduce friction as the snake slithers along the ground. Snakes often sun bathe on rocks in the warm weather. This is because snakes are cold-blooded; they need the sun's warmth to heat their bodies up.

Most snakes live in the country. Some types of snakes live in trees, some live in water, but most live on the ground in deserted rabbit burrows, in thick, long grass and in old logs.

A snake's diet usually consists of frogs, lizard, and mice and other snakes. The Anaconda can eat small crocodiles and even bears. Many snakes protect themselves with their fangs. Some snakes are protected by scaring their enemies away like the Cobra. The flying snakes glide away from danger. Their ribs spread apart and the skin stretches out. Its technique is just like the sugar gliders.

Report Text

Every single rock on the surface of the Earth-whether it is gravestone, a piece of solidified lava from a volcano or a boulder that has broken from a cliff or mountain-is slowly being broken down. This breaking down of rocks at or near the Earth's surface is called weathering. The word is used because the weather is mainly responsible. Weathering turns solid rock into soft materials that may eventually form soil.

Air and water are the cause of most weathering. Sometimes they change the chemical in the rocks, and sometimes they just break apart the rock physically. If water seeps into the cracks in the rocks, for example, it may later freeze if the temperature falls below 0 degrees Celsius. As the water turns to ice, it expands, pushing against the sides of the rock with a pressure believe to be as much as 2,100 kilograms per square centimetre. This forces the cracks open. Repeated freezing and thawing causes the fragments to break away from the original rock, these may slide down a cliff or mountain and form a sloping mass of fragments at the bottom, called scree.

Guava

Water Guava is a species of bush cherry tree. Its common names include water cherry, water rose apple, and (in some areas) names like "water apple" and "bell fruit" may refer to any species of Syzygium grown for its fruit. In Malay, it is known as jambu air meaning "water guava". In Bengali language, the fruit is called Golap laam. The tree is cultivated for its wood and edible fruit.

The fruit is a fleshy yellow or red berry which is bell shaped, waxy and crisp. Syzygium aqueum is sold in Indonesia and Papua New Guinea. The tree requires heavy rainfall and can be used to make tools. The bark of the tree is sometimes used in herbal medicines. It is grown in orchards and gardens and packed as an ornamental plant. The leaves are edible and are sometimes used to wrap food. The fruit has a very mild and slightly sweet taste similar to apples.
