ABSTRACT

This study aims to find out the type of request strategy and type of politeness strategy in request made by Native Dayanese at OKU South Sumatra. This study was a purely qualitative study. Twenty Native Dayanese have participated in this research. To get the data, the researchers used Discourse Completion Test (DCT). In analyzing data the researchers used Trosborg Theory and Brown Levinson. The result showed that category ability/willingness was mostly used by Native Dayanese to ask request, for instance Majuat, Hijuat, Pandaiat. The word Majuat used for ask to the interlocuter who has high status, while the word Hijuat and Pandaiat used for ask to the interlocuter who has middle and low level. Furthermore, mostly Native Dayanese used Negative Politeness in performing of politeness strategy in request.

Key words: Native Dayanese, Request Strategy, Politeness Strategy in Request

INTRODUCTION

Recently, a number of native local languages have decreased gradually. The UNESCO Atlas of the World's Languages

Section 42, Verse (1) stated that "the regional government shall develop, nurture, and protect the local languages and literature in order to keep its position and function in the life

Dear Author(s),

On behalf of IJALEL editorial team, we are pleased to inform you that your paper has passed the review in which it has already been anonymously peer-reviewed for clarity, technical approach and scientific validity by two experts in the area.

It is suggested that your paper can be considered for publication upon taking the following comments into consideration.

1. I would suggest to make some corrections in title of the article towards better understanding the main point of the article.
2. The study should make the novelty/originality either in the abstract or conclusion.
3. I would suggest to organize the formulation of the research problem, aim and goals in the frame of introductory part of the article.
4. The "Findings and discussion" section needs better organization: The questions asked are not clear and subtitles are needed to make clear the categories or the key-themes that emerged from data analysis.
5. Conclusions should reflect the main aim and goals of the research.
6. Linguistic preparation of the article needs some improvement.
7. A detailed check of the references is needed.

To prepare the revised paper based on IJALEL guideline, you may visit this link.

<http://www.journals.aiac.org.au/index.php/IJALEL/about/submissions#onlineSubmissions>

You should use this journal's Submission Template to submit your paper for publication. Please make sure the author names, affiliations and their email address are included in the first page.

<http://aiac.org.au/journals/Subtemps/IJALEL%20Submission%20Template.doc>

Finally, the publication fee should be paid through the link below. If the payment option is not available in your country please inform us to provide you an alternative method of payment.

<http://www.journals.aiac.org.au/index.php/IJALEL/about/editorialPolicies#custom-1>

Once you meet the indicated requirements, the paper will be scheduled for publication in Vol 8 No 1, 2018. In case if you do not wish to consider any of the comments, a rebuttal letter would be required to point out why a particular(s) comment is not addressed. The revised version should be emailed to us in Three Weeks. An official acknowledgment will be emailed to the corresponding author later.

We look forward to hearing from you and wish to thank you for considering IJALEL as your preferred journal.

That is fine. You will have a chance to edit your work when you receive the galley proof.

Dear Author,

Please be informed that we are working on your paper to prepare it for publication. Please find the primary version as attachment and check your paper. You may leave your comment(s) on the PDF file if you find any point(s) which requires to be amended. In case author query has been made by our production team, please respond by commenting again on the PDF file. You are expected to return the final galley proof within three days. If we do not receive your reply within the specified time, we will publish it based on the current version. Kindly do not change the file name and avoid adding your academic position (salutation) before or after your name (Prof., Dr. , etc). Most importantly, please check the author name(s), language and errors, and references. Note that we won't accept any other file such as word document.

Thank you very much. It was the right article:
the name should be :

Yeasy Agustina Sari¹, Suhono², Ferdian Utama², Umi Yawisah¹.

Dear IJALEL editor.

I have suggested to change the affiliation the name of authors. The Affiliation of Ferdian Utama & Umi Yawisah of our article was upside down or confused. The right affiliation is Ferdian Utama : Institut Agama Islam Ma'arif NU (IAIM NU) Metro Lampung, While Umi Yawisah : Institut Agama Islam Negeri Metro Lampung. Hopefully the wrong affiliation should be changed because article publication will be used for requirement to continue our study and get high level in my job as lecturer. please Help me dear IJALEL editor. Than you very much your response is very needed.
