This research aimed to find out whether the Mind Mapping technique can improve the students' reading skill at the eighth graders of SMP Negeri 8 Metro. This research is classroom action research. In collecting the data, this research used test, observation, documentation to collect the data.

This research using classroom action research (CAR) that was conducted in 2 cycles. There are four steps in each cycle, such as planning, acting, observing and reflecting. The researcher gave one pre-test before treatment, two treatments and two post-tests, the subject of this action research are the eighth graders of SMP Negeri 8 Metro. This research used 25 students as object of research. To prove whether the hypothesis was accepted or rejected, the researcher used average formula.

The invention of this research shows that there was improving from cycle I to cycle II. The result from the data in cycle I, it was gain the average score of pre-test was 0% and posttest I 48% and posttest from cycle II was gained the average score 80%. The result of cycle II was higher than the result of post-test at cycle I. The condition of the class was getting better. The students pay attention to teacher's explanation in learning activity. The conclusion of this research is that using Mind Mapping technique can improve the students reading skill at the eighth graders of SMP Negeri 8 Metro.

CHAPTER I

INTRODUCTION

A. Background Of Study

Interaction relies heavily on language. Language will assist others in expanding their understanding in areas such as education, social, political, and cultural. A language is a way for someone to communicate their thoughts or feelings to another person. Language serves to communicate thoughts from one individual to another.<sup>1</sup>

Since 2006, Indonesia has had a decentralized school level curriculum (School Based Curriculum), which is organized by educational units according to the Content Standard (Standar Isi) and Graduate Competence Standard (Standar Kompetensi Lulusan).

Some aspects, such as the student, the teacher, the media, or the teaching approach employed in the learning process, generate challenges for student and teachers. Student are uninterested in studying English, particularly reading, because English is regarded as a foreign language that is rarely utilized in everyday discussions.

Method and approach are critical in capturing student' attention and motivating them to develop their creativity and imagination in presenting their ideas. It indicates that before beginning to teach, teachers must be well prepared.

Reading, listening, speaking, and writing are the four main skills of the English language.<sup>2</sup>

Writing and speaking are referred to as productive skills, while reading and listening are referred to as receptive skills.<sup>3</sup>

One of the four language skills in language learning is reading., and its importance is recognized not just in terms of language proficiency but also in terms of knowledge mastery. By incorporating reading into language acquisition, the teacher has effectively opened the schemata (horizon) of the student. In the long run, Other language abilities like writing and speaking will be significantly impacted by the knowledge kids gain from reading.

Reading provides knowledge. When a student comprehends what they are reading, they have gained some information. "Reading is the ability to take meaning from the printed page and interpret the information effectively," according to Grabe and Stoller.<sup>4</sup> Reading, according to the definition above, entails locating the messenger or information that the writer has placed in the text as efficiently as possible.

English is one of a few worldwide languages that are spoken by almost everyone on the world. In the global world, people are required to speak English so they can communicate with people from different nations. Those who reside in a nation where English is used as a foreign language, such as Indonesia, should learn it as a tool for international communication. As one of the required topics starting in junior high school, the Indonesian government has included English in the curriculum to aid Indonesians in communicating with people around the globe. As a result, it is hoped that Indonesian student would have a great opportunity to strengthen their English communication skills.

One of the most important aspects of learning a language is the linguistic aspect, which includes grammar, vocabulary, pronunciation, structure, and so on. Student should also acquire language skills such as listening, reading, writing, and speaking in addition to these aspects. It is important to note, however, that these abilities cannot be learn separately. Student learning English must master all of these skills simultaneously.

It is well known that student is exposed to printed texts on a daily basis. Magazines, newspapers, books, articles on paper and the internet, online games, and other sorts of written content can all be found. This written material supplies student with a wealth of knowledge. Many texts are provided in student textbooks, just as they are in school.

Student in some schools take additional English textbooks published in English. This textbook includes a lot of information about the subjects that student are studying. They will need a good command of the English language to access this information. They must be able to read because it is published in an English textbook and they must be able to comprehend it. As a result, developing reading skills is important for student.

However, researchers discovered that many students still had poor reading abilities in a number of metro schools. Researchers monitored the learning process at SMP Negeri 8 METRO, which proved this. They struggle with a variety of issues, including reading comprehension, which leads children to struggle with content offered in English textbooks.

Reading is one of the most crucial receptive language skills to learn in order to get vital information. Student that can read may learn a lot of new vocabulary from the book. They may pick up on grammatical details from what they read. Reading plays a vital role in encouraging student to think critically about the text's content. There are various factors that impact reading, including internal and environmental factors. Intrinsic motivation, interest in reading, reading habit, and learning style are all internal factors. Meanwhile, extrinsic factors such as learning media, learning approach, and external motivation from family, classmates, and society are also important.

The explicit teaching of comprehension skills was viewed as a feasible solution to the student' difficulties. In this example, the writer attempted to find an interesting and successful method for student and instructors to complete their reading assignments. The mind map method is one of the strategies available. Student was able to convey information using this strategy because it may simplify complicated ideas into simple, relevant displays, allowing them to gain a holistic knowledge of the topic to be studied.

When student can express or manipulate a complicated collection of ideas in a diagram, they are more likely to comprehend those connections, recall them, and be able to analyze the text's component pieces. Because the student' reading abilities were still inadequate, the writer concentrated on class VIII of SMPN 8 Metro.

Reading problems are obtained from the results of pre-survey that have been carried out Monday, February 14th, 2022, problems of eight grade at SMPN 8 Metro are presented in the following table:

Based on the data above, the researcher will divide the score into two categories, such as: failed and pass. The table of two categories as follows

Table 1.2
The Result of The Students Pre-Survey Score At The Eight Grade of SMP Negeri 8 Metro

No.	Score	Explanation	Frequency	Percentage
1.	>75	Incomplete	20	80%
2.	≤75	Complete	5	20%
Result			25	100%

The results shown above demonstrate that the majority of students score poorly in reading ability. 20 students failed the category, and 5 students passed it, according to the pre-survey data. English requires a minimum grade of 75. Because many students at SMP Negeri 8 Metro's eighth grade receive scores below 75, it indicates that the reading proficiency of the kids is still low.

From the aforementioned issue, it is clear that teachers must assist pupils in improving their reading skills and finding acceptable solutions to their challenges. Actually, there are many technique that can help student' to increase their reading skill. It is somehow difficult to increase students' reading skill in Junior High School efficiently. Given the issues described above, reading plays a vital role in assisting student in comprehending the content they are reading. The researcher's first observations revealed that the student at the school had some difficulties with reading.

Based on the preceding description, the researcher would want to undertake a study named Improving Student Reading Skill by Using the Mind Map Technique at SMPN 8 Metro in Year. Furthermore, the author hopes that the technique can increase the students' reading skill achievement.

B. Problem Identification

According to the study's background, student have some difficulties with reading skills.

1. Students have difficulty in reading skills especially in textThe Student have difficulties in reading skill.
2. The Student have less motivation to read a text.
3. The student is difficult to catch the main idea in a text.

C. Problem Limitation

Based on the problem identification above the writer would like to focus on the using mind mapping on the students' reading skill it conducted only for at eight grade of SMPN 8 Metro.

D. Problem Formulation

Based on the explanation in the problem limitation the research formulated as follows: "How can mind map techniques improve students' reading skills at SMPN 8 Metro in the academic year of 2022/2023?"

E. Objective And Benefit Of Study

The benefits of the research are as follows:

1. For the Teacher

This study is expected to help the teacher applies mind mapping in the process of teaching and learning.

2. For the Students

It is expected to give a solution, reading plays an important role in helping students understand the content they read. And the result of this research help was the students to express their opinion, and students easily to mastering mind mapping.

3. For the School

This research also hoped to contribute to the Junior High School students to enlarge their knowledge.

4. For the Next Researchers

The researcher also hopes that this research can be a valuable experience and certainly add a reference about Mind Map Technique.

F. Prior Research

It is necessary to conduct preliminary research in order to aid this research. The first study was conducted by students at Jakarta's State University of Syarif Hidayatullah. Yusri Nur Fadilah carried out this study.<sup>5</sup> There are several parallels, including variable (y), which is focused on conducting mind mapping research. Another similarity is that the primary audience is junior high school students. There are also some differences: the researcher concentrated on reading skills, whereas previous researchers concentrated on writing skills. Another difference is the research location; the current researcher conducted research at SMPN 8 Metro, while the previous researcher conducted research at MTs Nurussa'adah Jakarta.

The second research was carried out by students from Syarif Hidayatullah State University Jakarta by Arif Prayogo.<sup>6</sup> As before, there are some differences and similarities in this study. The equation is focused on the use of mind mapping, besides that this research was conducted with the target of junior high school. There are also some differences namely, the researcher focused on students' listening skills whereas the previous research focused on writing skills. Another difference is the location of the study. This research is certainly different because researchers use mind mapping to improve reading skills.

CHAPTER II

THEORIETICAL REVIEW

A. Concept of Reading Skill

1. The Definition of Reading Skills

One of the skills that students should be able to master is reading. There are numerous expert explanations of reading. One of the fundamental abilities in learning a language, according to Michelle Maxom, is reading. It helps students improve their speaking, listening, and writing abilities.<sup>7</sup>

Whereas Broughton said that reading is a typical area of teacher education where teachers frequently teach using the methods their own teachers used to teach them.<sup>8</sup>

Furthermore, according to Liu, The ability to use one's brain when interacting with texts is referred to as reading skill. Skills are therefore understood as components of the overall reading process, as opposed to comprehension, which might be seen as the outcome of reading a specific text.<sup>9</sup>

According to Charles, a person's score on a reading assessment represents their level of reading proficiency. Those who perform well on this test are considered skilled readers, whereas those who perform poorly are considered low skill readers.<sup>10</sup>

From the aforementioned remark, it can be deduced that reading ability refers to a person's performance on a reading exam that they can employ while interacting with literature. Those who perform well on this test are considered skilled readers, whereas those who perform poorly are considered low skill readers.

2. Basic Skills of Reading

According to Duffy<sup>11</sup>, three important categories of skills and strategies, there are:

a. Vocabulary

Vocabulary and understanding are the main topics in this section. Since the purpose of written language is to convey ideas, comprehension is essential to reading. We are not reading if we cannot comprehend the message. Furthermore, terminology is crucial for comprehending the message.

b. Decoding

Decoding by analogy is a reading technique where a reader uses recognized spelling patterns to identify unfamiliar words that share those patterns. It is the best method for teaching vowel sounds.

<sup>11</sup> Gerald G. Duffy, Explaining Reading, (New York:Guildford,2009 P.14-32

c. Fluency

Fluency is the capacity to read text smoothly, with the appropriate phrasing and tone, both orally and silently. Fluency is frequently believed to be exclusive to oral reading.

3. The Measurements of Reading Skills

Use the assessment of reading competence to determine how far the student's reading ability should be evaluated. There are many different reading-skill questions, some of which include:<sup>12</sup>

a. Pronominal Question, Imperatives

The questions ask students to write answers, which might be as short as one word or as long as many paragraphs. Short answers are typically necessary for comprehension, and this type of inquiry is known as a short answer question.

b. Transfer Information

The text's understanding can be evaluated using incomplete information. The students study the text and complete the mind map with visualize the acquired concept, and optimize brain capacity is known as mind mapping. Tony Buzan created mind mapping in 1960, which is a learning method that helps maximize the brain's capacity for brilliant thinking. In reality, a few stakeholders have said that this kind of review has assisted them in better communicating and elaborating on the significance and sustainability of their initiatives (Mary & Skye, 2009). The ability to analyze, comprehend, and memorize information is improved by the mind mapping process. Because mind maps systematically organize a lot of information, they significantly improve a person's attention, coordination, logic, reasoning, thinking, analyzing, creativity, imagination, memory, ability of planning and integrating, speed reading, character, number, visuality, hearing, kinesthetic sense, sensation, etc.<sup>13</sup>

According to Eppler, a mind map is a multicolored, image-centered radial diagram that shows the hierarchically connected semantic or other relationships between different parts of learnt data.<sup>14</sup> Students have utilized mind maps to take notes on their own during class. The usefulness of mind mapping for taking notes has already been emphasized in a number of research.

Buzan claims that mind mapping has a built-in organizational system that uses lines, symbols, key words, color, and imagery in accordance with clear, straightforward notions.<sup>15</sup> Through the use of colorful, memorable, and well-arranged diagrams, mind mapping can transform a large list of dull information into something that better fits your brain's natural processing style. It helps in idea generation, note-taking, developing concepts and ideas, and memory enhancement.

2. The Function Of Mind Map Technique

According to Buzan, mind mapping can be used for planning, communicating, being more creative, saving time, solving problems, remembering, and accelerating learning, among other things.<sup>16</sup> Anyone can use mind mapping to simplify a complex topic as well as to help them retain information more readily and in an ordered way. Making use of mind maps can make taking notes a more fun task.

The use of mind mapping in the learning process has both many benefits and drawbacks. The advantages there are:

- a. Both solo and group brainstorming.
- b. Information summarization and note-taking.
- c. Combining knowledge from several research sources.
- d. Solving challenging issues.
- e. Presenting data in a way that demonstrates the subject's general organization.
- f. Learning, remembering, and recalling data.
- g. Encourages in-depth learning rather than memorizing.

However, the disadvantages are:

- Can only be stored digitally as a scanned document.
- There is a maximum map size.
- User preference for the benefits of mind mapping software.

With the use of a mind map, one can examine the connections between concepts and argumentative components, come up with creative solutions, and think more clearly. It offers a fresh viewpoint by enabling you to consider all the pertinent factors and evaluate decisions in the context of the overall situation.

C. Using Mind Map Technique To Improve Reading Skills

Example of Mind Mapping

The mind map technique, pioneered by Buzan, is a powerful visual tool used to organize and represent information in a structured and interconnected manner. This technique is particularly beneficial for brainstorming, planning, and comprehending complex concepts. A mind map typically starts with a central idea or theme, represented by a node in the center of the page. Branching out from this central node are key concepts or keywords related to the central idea.

The branches further extend into sub-branches, forming a hierarchical and branching structure that mirrors the natural thought process. Each branch and sub-branch may contain words, short phrases, or images, providing a holistic and non-linear representation of information. This visual approach aids in stimulating creativity, enhancing memory retention, and fostering a deeper understanding of relationships between different concepts.

According to Buzan, the mind map technique engages both hemispheres of the brain, promoting a balanced and effective thinking process. The non-linear nature of mind maps encourages a free-flowing association of ideas, fostering creativity and allowing for unexpected connections to emerge.

In conclusion, the mind map technique is a valuable tool for individuals seeking an innovative and structured approach to information organization and idea generation. By visually representing relationships between concepts, it becomes an effective strategy for problem-solving, learning, and strategic planning.

From the image, we can get a sense of one way to create a mind map and learn how to put one together. The illustration makes it clear how the mind map was created. Even if the topic is just one word, a portion of the topic could consist of many words, as seen in the illustration. By mapping, it is possible to explore similar concepts and observe how they relate to one another after developing concepts.<sup>17</sup>

1. The Procedure

There are several things that Buzan & Buzan write as mind mapping suggestions and techniques.<sup>18</sup>

The examples of mind map technique are illustrated in this following :

a. Use emphasis

- 1) Consistently employ a focal image
- 2) If at all possible, incorporate imagery into your mind map.
- 3) Each core image should have three or more colors.
- 4) Use dimensions in your photos.
- 5) Vary the printing, line, and image sizes
- 6) Maintain orderly spacing

b. Use Association

- 1) When making connections within and across the branch pattern, use arrows.
- 2) Use colors
- 3) Use codes

c. Be Clear

- 1) Limit essential words to one per line.

- 2) Type every word.
  - 3) Write important terms on lines
  - 4) Align the line and word lengths.
  - 5) Join two lines together
  - 6) Thicken the middle lines.
  - 7) Use the clearest photographs you can.
- d. Develop a personal style

2. The Steps

Seven stages are provided by Buzan in his book for creating mind maps.<sup>19</sup>

- a. Starting in the middle of the landscape-format blank paper, follow these instructions
- b. Create a central image that represents the subject of your writing or thoughts
- c. Use a variety of colors throughout the mind map
- d. Connect the lines starting from the central image
- e. Use curves rather than straight lines.
- f. Include a keyword in every line
- g. Include as many photos as you can

D. Action Hypothesis

The action hypothesis is as follows; By using mind map technique, it will improve the student reading skill and learning among the eight grade at SMPN 8 Metro.

CHAPTER III

RESEARCH METHOD

A. Variable and The Definition Operational Variable

In this research has contains two variables, which are an independent variable and a dependent variable. The variable that the researcher picked, manipulated, and calculated is independent. The independent variable of this analysis uses the topic of small groups as a strategy. You should describe all variables as follows:

1. Independent Variable (X)

In this research, the independent variable is the simulation strategy. The only variable that is hoped to be investigated is the independent variable. It is the variable that the researcher picked, manipulated, and calculated. The independent variable of this analysis uses Mind Mapping as a technique that can be defined as a tool to help learners in reading activity.

In addition, the learners are this vector predictor. Spontaneously and organized, of SMPN 8 Metro will do its writing. In this case, an observation sheet is used to calculate this variable and a star of 0-100 is used for the score to evaluate and measure student skill. The predictor of this variable is that with mind map technique, students can read accurately and appropriately without facing challenges both in terms of word choice and grammar to develop their reading skills.

B. Research Location

The subject of the research was the first year at SMP Negeri 8 Metro, and the object of this research was how to improving students reading skill by using mind map technique.

C. The Subject Of The Research

The subject of this action research is the student of class VIII at SMPN 8 Metro. In this research the researcher takes 25 students of eight grades as the subject of research.

D. Research Procedure

1. Classroom Action Research

Bassey stated that the classroom action research procedure as an inquiry to increase education practice which is carried out to understand, evaluate and then to change.<sup>20</sup> Besides that, Macintyre mentioned, classroom action research is the researcher focuses on a 'problem' (or a topic or an issue which needs to be explained), and on the basis of information (about the up-to-date state of the art, about the people who will be involved and about the context), plans, implements, then evaluates an action then draws conclusions on the basis of the findings.<sup>21</sup>

Furthermore, Action research is any sort of systematic inquiry conducted by those with a direct, vested interest in the teaching and learning process in a particular setting; it is truly systematic inquiry into one's own practice.<sup>22</sup> This suggested that action research was a realistic way to look at your procedure to test how it was done as you thought it should be.

From the definition above, the researcher concludes that classroom action research is research in teaching and learning in the class whose aim is to increase the students' skill and to solve problems in the learning process.

In the classroom action research, the researcher would like to hold the research in two cycles. Classroom action research typically uses two cycles because it allows for a systematic approach to improving teaching and learning. Each cycle consists of planning, implementation, observation, and reflection. After the first cycle, the teacher reflects on changes made and makes adjustments for the second cycle. The second cycle involves further action and data collection to improve the quality of pupils' learning. The four phases of the classroom action research cycles are conducted in each cycle. By using two cycles, teachers can make informed decisions about what works best for their students and make adjustments accordingly.

There is a relationship between one the other. The steps are follows:

- a. Planning
- b. Action
- c. Observing
- d. Reflecting<sup>23</sup>

Here is steps classroom action research design:

Action Plan

The process of conducting two periods in the study of classroom action. Planning, acting, observing, and reflecting involves of each cycle.

Four forms of the cycle will be explained in more depth as follows:

<sup>23</sup> Craig A. Mertler, "Classroom-Based Action Research: Revisiting the Process as Customizable and Meaningful Professional Development for Educators," accessed June 26, 2020, <https://core.ac.uk/reader/29821988..>

Cycle I

1. Planning

a. The first phase of each cycle is planning. This study would not be concentrated on without preparation. The researcher prepared lesson plans, educational strategies, and teaching media at this point. The researcher plans the instructional instrument in the planning phases as follows:

- 1) The researcher will identify the problem and identify the issue question.
- 2) The researcher will prepare the instructional materials and techniques.
- 3) The researcher will make a schedule for the lecture.
- 4) The basis of learning will be planned by the researchers.
- 5) To analyze and assess, the researcher will prepare instructions.

2. Acting

Action is the implementation of the preparation made by the artist. The operation, in other words, is the execution of the preparation that the researcher had made. In the teaching-learning process, the researcher attempted to incorporate the Mind Map Technique. Here are the moves in the class that the researcher took:

a. Pre-teaching activities

- 1) The researcher invites the students.
- 2) Before beginning the teaching-learning process, the researcher guides the learner to pray together.

- 3) The researcher is reviewing the students' attendance list.

b. While Teaching Activities

- 1) The lesson plan is implemented by the researcher.
- 2) The researcher uses a small group conversation approach to illustrate the content.
- 3) The researcher will test the students to construct a clear paragraph based on the group's topic. This examination offers realistic guidance on the students' ability.

c. Post-teaching Activities

- 1) The researcher gathers the work of the teachers.
- 2) The researcher tests and submitted an analysis of student projects.
- 3) The researcher get reviews and a finding.
- 4) The speaker ends the lecture with a welcome.

3. Observing

Observation is really an event and class action recording process. Observation would really be done to obtain the required data and to check that the information is complete. It is obtained or not based on the collected data. The researcher used some to prepare better during the next action.

4. Reflecting

The last step in this process is reflection. The researcher analyzed and assessed the use of non-useful measures. The researcher explained and discussed the student work results while teaching, such as strengths and weaknesses made by researchers and students during the teaching-learning process, through the use of a small group strategy for discussion and the learning of written skills. The study process was analyzed by observation. On the basis of analysis and reflection, the next cycle is determined to focus on the weakness of the preceding cycle.

Cycle II

1. Planning

- a. In the first cycle, the researcher identified the problem and discovered the cause.
- b. The researcher draws up the curriculum.
- c. The researcher prepares teaching materials, strategies, and media.
- d. The researcher prepares the learning source.
- e. The researcher prepares instructions for observation and assessment.

2. Acting

- a. Pre-activity
  - 1) The researcher will encourage the students.
  - 2) Before learning process starts, the researcher guides the student to pray together.
  - 3) The researcher examines the students' attendance list.
- b. While Teaching Activities
  - 1) The researcher uses the lesson scheme.
  - 2) The researcher describes how to improve the reading skill by mind map.
  - 3) The researcher will test the students for a mind map.
  - 4) The researcher will submit an assessment.

c. Post-teaching Activities

- 1) The researcher get reviews and a finding.
- 2) The speaker ends the lecture with a greeting.

3. Observing

In this stage, the researcher observed the research process through format observation and field notes for the data collection of cycle 2.

4. Reflecting

This move represents and assesses the actions taken. By reflection, the researcher learns how strong and weak acting are in order to know if the next cycle is indeed important.

E. The Data Collecting Technique

The two types of data collection are qualitative and quantitative. When working with qualitative data, the author uses observation. On the other hand, in order to collect the quantitative data, the writer uses the student's final reading skill score as a pre-test and post-test.

A few tools are used to get the data for this investigation. The following is a detailed explanation of those instruments:

1. Test

The researcher uses test results to determine the student's reading skill. Based on the material used, the test's outcome is a reading score for the learner. This test's objective is to gauge the student's reading skill. The tests come in the following categories:

a. Pre-test

The pre-test was conducted before implementing mind map technique in preparations study. Pre-test of this research was in the form of multiple choices test.

b. Post-test

The post-test is implemented after using mind map technique in teaching reading skill. Post-test of this research was in the form of multiple choices test.

2. Observation

A key component of action research is observation. It helps the writer to record and reflect on classroom interactions and events in a methodical manner, as they actually happen rather than how we would want to think they happen.

In this instance, the author observes the pupil in the classroom and gathers information about their activities as they learn to read. Based on previously created observation notes, the actual teacher also watches the writer who instructs in the classroom and the application of CAR.

Based on student participation in lesson-planned teaching and learning activities, data is collected. The data gathered from this observation serves as a foundation for the planning of the subsequent cycle.

3. Documentation

Documentation is collection of various documents relevant to the research questions which can include student' reading worksheet, student records and profile, course overviews, lesson plans, classroom materials.<sup>24</sup>

The writer uses the documentation method to get some information about:

- a. The history of SMPN 8 Metro.
- b. The condition teachers and officials employed in SMPN 8 Metro.
- c. The quantity of the student of SMPN 8Metro.
- d. Organization structure of SMPN 8Metro.
- e. Reading skill worksheet, course overviews and classroom materials of the student at SMPN 8 Metro.

4. Field Note

In this research, the writer used field note to focus on a particular issue or teaching behavior over a period of time. Moreover, the writer took field note related to the classroom situation, classroom management, classroom interaction between teacher and student or student with student and etc.

F. Research Instrument

1. Reading Test

To identify the student' reading ability of the eighth grade of SMPN 8 Metro, the writer applied reading test. The test is measuring the ability of the student about the topic on reading subject.

The test consists of pre-test and post-test, of this research was in the form of essay text that asks the student to write a composition of descriptive text in English.

G. Data Analysis Technique

Data analysis was conducted by taking the average score of the pre-test. The writer uses a statistical technique. In scoring the test, the student score is counted with the following formula:<sup>25</sup>

$$\bar{X} = \frac{\sum X}{N}$$

Notes:

$\bar{X}$  = Mean

$\sum X$  = The total number of student' scores

N = Number of student

Moreover, to know the result the writer compared between pre-test and post-test. The result was matched by the minimum standard in this school at least 70. If from cycle 1, there are some students are not successful, so the writer will conduct the cycle II. The minimum cycle in CAR is two cycles if from cycle II of the student is successful, the cycle able to be stop until cycle II only.

<sup>25</sup> Donald Ary at all, Introduction to Research in Education, (USA: Wadsworth Cengage Learning, 2010) Eighth edition, p.108

The formula to figure out the percentage of the student who pass the Minimal Mastery Criteria in each cycle as follows: <sup>26</sup>

$$P = \frac{F}{N} \times 100\%$$

P = Class percentage

F = Frequency

N = Number of student

H. The Indicator of Success

The indicator of success takes from the process and the result of the action research. This research is called successful if 70% of the student get minimal score 70 in reading skill and 70 % of the student show the activeness in the learning activity.

B. Description of Result Finding

This research was classroom action research (CAR). It was carried out at the eight grades of the State SMPN 8 Metro. This research was conducted in two cycles, each cycles consisted of four stages that were planning, acting, observing and reflecting and accomplished in three meetings in each cycle. The students' result of reading skill was gained through test which consisted of pre test and post test in the beginning research and in the end of each cycles while the students' activities were gained from observation during the learning process. The schedule of the research is as follow:

C. Description of the Research

1. Pretest

In this research before the process of cycle one, the researcher conducted the pre-test on August 25th, 2023. The result of the students' Score can be seen on the table as follows:

Based on the result of student's pre-test score, it can be inferred that there was no any student passed the Minimum Mastery Criteria (MMC) that was 75 while 100% or 25 students did not pass the Minimum Mastery Criteria (MMC) or less than 75. It indicated that the result of students reading skill was still low. By calculating and analyzing the result of pre-test, the writer and collaborator made a plan to implement the action that consisted of planning, acting, observing, and reflecting in each cycle to repair the weakness.

2. Cycle I

a. Planning

In the cycle, the researcher and collaborator would like to make and discuss about the lesson plan. The minimum mastery criteria (MMC) at SMPN 8 Metro for English was 75. The lesson is reading. In this meeting, the students were expected by the teacher got specific information. In the first and second meeting, the teacher would explain about the mind mapping technique. Therefore, in the last meeting, the teacher would evaluate for the 25 students 1 class. The evaluation was about write mind map.

Based on the evaluation, the students were expected to be able to achieve the minimum mastery criteria (75). Then, they discussed about what mind mapping is and the procedure of mind mapping technique, because the researcher would be implemented the mind mapping technique in reading lesson.

b. Acting

The implementation of this cycle was conducted in two meetings. The first meeting was done on August 25th, 2023, and the second meeting was done on August 26th, 2023. The researcher started the cycle by these instructions. These instructions are to be followed, starting in the middle of the landscape-format blank paper. A central image representing the subject of your writing or thoughts should be created. A variety of colors should be used throughout the mind map. The lines should be connected, starting from the central image. Curves should be used rather than straight lines. A keyword should be included in every line. As many photos as possible should be included. Furthermore, researcher ended this cycle by applying the posttest 1, and the result are as follows:

1	>75	12	48%	Complete
2	≤75	13	52%	Incomplete

Based on the result of student's post-test score, it could be inferred that there was 52% or 13 students did not passed the Minimum Mastery Criteria (MMC) that was 75 while 48% or 12 students passed the Minimum Mastery Criteria (MMC) or more than 75 and the average score was 72. It indicated that the result of students reading skill was improved if it compared with the pre-test score that was 62,96 but viewed from the indicator of success of this research stated that 75% of the total students must pass the MMC. It means that the result was unsuccessful to achieve the indicator of success.

c. Observing

In observation of the researcher's action, the researcher presented two meetings in cycle I of learning to write result of reading text. The teacher explained the mind mapping technique to the students. Although the teacher explained mind mapping, but the students confused about what should they do and got difficulty to express their idea into word and how construct sentence become a good paragraph.

In the second meeting, the researcher explained the mind mapping technique before giving the students assignment by using English fully. In this meeting, the students began active. They also began to be interested in teaching and learning process. In the test, there were 12 (48%) out of 25 students got good score. Although, only 12 students got good score. But, the result of the students' test was better than the students' test before giving treatment.

d. Reflecting

Based on the result of the first meeting, it can be seen that the most of the students got difficulty to write about mind map. It happened because the teacher has not explained more about mind mapping technique yet. Occasionally, in doing the assignment, the students face difficulty and they felt bored following the class.

Moreover, in the second meeting the teacher explained Mind Mapping more. So, it has positive effect to the students in teaching and learning process. It can be seen from the result of the assignment in the first meeting and the test in the second meeting. Although few students who. Got score more than 75 only, but there was improve in it. It proves that implement the mind mapping technique was better than not implement it. The teaching and learning process will be effective if the teacher used bilingual language, those are English and Indonesian.

Although there was increasing of the result from the first and second meeting, but the research should be continued to the next cycle because the students' average have not achieved the minimum mastery criteria yet.

3. Cycle II

a. Planning

In the planning, the researcher would like to made and discuss about the lesson plan. The lesson was mind map reading text especially. In this meeting, the students expected able to get specific information of the text. In the first and second meeting, the teacher would explain more about reading the text and the procedure of mind mapping technique. Therefore, in the last meeting, the teacher would evaluate for the 25 students. The evaluation was write about mid map. Then, they discussed more about what mind mapping is and the procedure of mind mapping technique, because the researcher would like to implement the mind mapping technique in reading lesson.

b. Acting

The implementation of this cycle was conducted on September 4th, 2023. The researcher started the cycle by evaluating the result of cycle 1 and then do explaining the mind map material more compressively. These instructions are to be followed, starting in the middle of the landscape-format blank paper. A central image representing the subject of your writing or thoughts should be created. A variety of colors should be used throughout the mind map. The lines should be connected, starting from the central image. Curves should be used rather than straight lines. A keyword should be included in every line. As many photos as possible should be included. Furthermore, researcher ended this cycle by applying the posttest 2, and the result are as follows:
